Union Pacific Motor Train Plunges Into Flood Waters

75 Passengers Aboard; 40 Incur Serious Injuries

By Associated Press.

RANDOLPH, Kan., Oct. 16.—Union Pacific Motor Train No. 572, consisting of one passenger coach and a baggage and mail combination car, crashed through an undermined abutment, plunged into Fancy creek and buried about fifteen feet of the forward end of the passenger car in flood waters and mud, one mile south of here early today.

Four of the estimated seventy-five passengers are known to be dead and nine other bodies are said to be lodged in the buried end of the car. All attempts to reach these bodies have failed and the correct death list probably will not be known until the wrecking crew reach the scene and lift the car.

Fancy creek, ordinarily nearly dry, was swollen into a torrent by three inches of rain which fell yesterday and last night. The bridge proper withstood the ravages of the flood waters, but the south abutment was cut under, so that the motor train carried it down.

MANY TEACHERS ABOARD.

A majority of the passengers were young women school teachers coming to a teachers' meeting which was to have been held here today. Several of the young women are unaccounted for.

It was said few persons in the wrecked car escaped injuries. A call was sent to Marysville and to Manhattan for medical assistance. The homes of Randolph were thrown open to the sufferers. The identified dead are:

DR. LEWIS ATWOOD, physician. Topeka.

ALMA K. JELLIN, Garrison, Kansas.

Warren Knitte of Manhattan, conductor of the wrecked train, estimated that thirteen passengers probably lost their lives. He said thirty-seven passengers had been accounted for as alive after the wreck.

The ill-fated train arrived at the bridge at 7:50. The train was traveling at a rapid rate when, according to the passengers, the forward end of the passenger car suddenly pitched down.

The front end of the car demolished the abutment and one end of the bridge and was tottering on the edge of the stream. Before many of the struggling passengers could extricate themselves and reach the doors or windows the car broke loose from the trailing baggage car and plunged downward, standing almost upright on the front end.

MANY SAVE SELVES.

Many clung to seats and window ledges until they were rescued. Those who had been thrown against the front of the car were last seen in a struggling mass that sank into the water.

The motorman is believed to have gone down with the car.

It is believed the weight of the passenger car with its load and driving apparatus buried the car to such a depth as to make its raising extremely difficult.

Railroad officials arriving this afternoon began an attempt to establish the correct number of dead and identify them, but no attempt to get at the bodies in the forward part of the car had succeeded at 2 o'clock. The water still was flowing in a torrent about and through the car.

15 DEAD, REPORT ELSEWHERE SHOWS

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 16.—At least 15 persons were killed and many were injured today when motor train No. 572 on the Union Pacific Railroad plunged down an embankment near Randolph Kansas. A washout caused the accident. One of the cars on the train was submerged in Fancy Creek, a local stream, and most of the dead were drowned.

At noon, according to a message from the scene, four bodies had been removed from the buried car. The work of rescue had been abandoned until wrecking equipment could lift the car out of the water. Rescuers had been unable to get into the forward compartments of the car. It was known the motorman of the ill-fated train met death with his passengers.

The train which carried two cars left Manhattan this morning early for Marysville. It carried about 75 passengers. A three-inch rain fell in the vicinity yesterday. The accident occurred near the approach to the bridge over Fancy Creek.

It was in the forward compartments of the car that the greatest loss of life was

Sweden Appeals for Life of Hillstrom

By Associated Press.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 16.—The Swedish minister to the United States telegraphed today a final appeal for clemency for Joseph Hillstrom, whose case came today before the state board of pardons. Hillstrom was convicted of the murder of J. G. Morrison of Salt Lake City in 1914 and was sentenced to be shot October 1. He was reprieved until today at the request of President Wilson, who in turn acted upon the appeal of the Swedish minister, W. A. F. Ekengren. Minister Ekengren's telegram says he has studied the evidence and is further confirmed in his opinion that it does not warrant capital punishment. He asks on his government's behalf a commutation of sentence, "if for no other reason than for the sake of humanity and comity usually practiced between friendly nations."

Bulgaria Sternly Is Repressing Pro-Slavs

By Associated Press.

MILAN, via Paris, Oct. 16.—The Bulgarian government has been obliged to resort to stern measures of repression as a result of unrest among the people, says a dispatch to the Secolo from Sofia by way of Bucharest. Many officers of Pro-Russian sentiments have been retired from the army and it is asserted that reprisals are beginning against subjects of the quadruple entente nations.

An Athens dispatch to the Secolo states that fifty thousand Bulgarians attacked the Serbians on October 14 in the Valadova region close to the Greek frontier, and that desperate fighting is now proceeding.

COUNT BONI APPEALS AGAIN ANNULMENT QUEST TO FAIL

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The committee of cardinals appointed by Pope Benedict to reconsider the decisions of the Rota Tribunal and the Segnatura Tribunal in the suit of Count Boni de Castellane for the annulment of his marriage to Anna Gould, now the Duchess of Talleyrand, met today to examine the positions of the litigants and the previous decision of the church courts.

The committee, composed of Cardinals de Lai, Van Rossum and Bisleti, adjourned without reaching a definite conclusion, but is expecting to confirm the last ruling of the Rota, which maintained that in the eyes of the church the marriage is indissoluble.

Count de Castellane's appeal to the Vatican court has been pending since 1910. If he were successful he would have religious sanction for marrying again, and under the French law he would have obtained possession of his three children, who were given into the custody of their mother when she secured a divorce in the Paris courts November 14, 1906.

A left-handed man, presumably a negro, is being sought by deputies of the sheriff's office as the murderer of Edward Moore, the negro teaming contractor whose body was found on the county road near Niles yesterday morning. The only clew so far obtained is that the man who killed the negro was left-handed. This is evidenced by the fact that the four gashes in the dead man's throat were inflicted by a razor in the left hand of another man. The position of two revolver bullet wounds in the chest, which is powder-burned, indicating that the man who fired did so at close range, also points to the work of a left-handed man.

Moore left his home at 1225 Magnolia street, Oakland, Thursday evening to drive to Livermore, where he was to see a man named McClaire, from whom he expected to purchase a horse. He had received a letter from a man signing himself McClaire announcing that he had a horse for sale. On Thursday afternoon he received a telephone message instructing him to bring $75 with him when he drove to Livermore.

Moore left Oakland driving a horse at 6 o'clock Thursday evening. He is believed to have been waylaid when he passed a lonely spot just this side of Niles. From all indications, he was first shot, and his throat slashed after he was dead from the bullet wounds. His money and watch are missing.

HE ORGANIZES NOISE TO SPOIL NIGHT

Sabotage of the latest kind is being practiced by J. A. Starr, who was last Thursday adjudged insane on complaint of his wife, Lillis Wood Starr, and who is confined to a cell in the emergency hospital awaiting a hearing before a jury Monday morning. In retaliation for his incarceration, Starr spends his nights in keeping all other patients and the attaches of the hospital awake.

C. A. Emlay, warden of the insane, Dr. Frank Cone, the head physician, and Steward Frank Davison and members of their families, did not sleep last night because of the organized sabotage instigated by Starr. He is alleged to have induced other patients in the insane ward to pound on their cell doors throughout the night and demand water. When all others were quiet, he would take up the burden of their calls, continuing the noise until his co-workers had regained their breath and resumed their labors.

Emlay and other hospital attendants rushed about supplying the demands for water. When Starr was handed the fluid, he drank but little of it, threw the remainder away, and spent his time in reviling the city, the county, the hospital and its attaches.

"He'll have all the rest of us crazy if he keeps this up much longer," Emlay said this morning, as he yawned sleepily and rubbed his eyes.

Mrs. Starr avers that her husband has suffered a mental breakdown through overwork. He threatened her life and that of Sheriff McAuley, of Placer county, she testified before the lunacy commission.

SEBASTIAN INVESTIGATION RENEWED

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—Charges made public today that papers, memoranda, letters and a photograph had been abstracted from the effects of George Bitten, a private detective on trial for alleged embezzlement, disclosed today the fact that the county grand jury again has under investigation various angles of the case of Mayor Charles E. Sebastian, who a short time before his election last May was tried and acquitted of immorality charges involving Mrs. Lillie Pratt and the latter's niece, Edith Serkin, aged 17.

The charges, which were made by Bitten's attorney in a justice court, indicated that the grand jury has before it an exhaustive statement by Bitten concerning alleged activities of certain "powerful men" in protecting vice.

BROKER SUED; REASON? NO DIVORCE

Heiress' Wife Wants Not Freedom, But $50,000 in Bonds

Therefore, Separation Pact Not Kept, Society Is Startled

A society near-divorce that has hitherto remained in the list of unknown tragedies of the smart set was made public today through the filing of a suit for the return of $50,000 worth of interest-bearing bonds by Mrs. Rosella R. B. Selby, one of the leaders of bay society sets, against her husband, David F. Selby, wealthy head of the Selby Investment Company. Mrs. Selby was heiress to $50,000 in "Lucky" Baldwin's estate.

The suit brings to light the fact that on June 10, 1914, the Selbys drew up and signed an agreement to the effect that if Selby secured a final decree of divorce from his wife within twenty-one months of date the bonds, placed in the Oakland Bank of Savings, would be given into his charge to be held by him in trust for their minor child, Helen Frances Selby. The mother, thereby, was to have contributed largely toward the future welfare of her daughter.

The divorce action was never filed. The divorce complaint, if it had been filed, would have charged Mrs. Selby with desertion, and the child would have been awarded to the custody of the father. The Selbys live at 410 Bellevue avenue.

The news of the odd agreement will come as a surprise to members of the smart set of all the bay cities. Although it was generally known among the intimates of the couple that their marital relations were not so smooth as they should have been, no hint was given as to a possible divorce action.

The fact that Selby has failed to bring an action for divorce since July 10, 1914, the date of the signing of the agreement, now makes it impossible for a final decree to be issued within the stipulated time. Attorneys who filed the suit today now declare that Mrs. Selby and her husband are reconciled, and the divorce idea has been abandoned. It is for that reason that Mrs. Selby's suit was filed. It is merely a formal action for the return of the bonds which are now in a trust.

Mrs. Selby is one of the daughters of the famous late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, who left an immense fortune to his children at the time of his death in Los Angeles a few years ago.

Carson Resignation Denial Contradicted

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 16, 3:57 a. m.—Notwithstanding the recent denial of Sir Edward Carson, the attorney general, that he had resigned, the assertion is made by the Parliamentary correspondent of the Daily News that he has given up his office. Announcement to this effect is withheld by the government, the correspondent says, because of its hope that in the interests of unity he may be persuaded to withdraw his resignation the reason for which, it is said, has not been ascertained.

Says British Divers Have Cleared Baltic

LONDON, Oct. 16.—British submarines have now cleared the Baltic Sea of German ships, says a dispatch to the Star.

Every German ship which was south-bound from Sweden when the submarines started their campaign has either been sunk or run aground, it adds.

Of the fifty German ore carriers, thirty-seven are virtually interned in Swedish ports, the correspondent declares.

Teuton Losses in Serbia 25,000 Men

By Associated Press.

The Serbian army operating in the north, the message adds, also sustained heavy losses.

2 OAKLAND MEN ARE ARRESTED AS COUNTERFEITERS

Former Police Officers Are Said to Have Made Half Million in Bogus Money

CLAIM THE PLANT IS HERE

Rollie A. York and Edward Karr Brought to City by Secret Service Men After Alleged Search

—United States secret service agents are due to arrive here tonight with Rollie A. York and Edward Karr of Oakland, who they charge have made and circulated nearly a half million dollars in five-dollar gold pieces. York was arrested in Ogden, Utah, and Karr at Columbus, Ohio. The counterfeiting plant is said to be in Oakland.

Following a nation-wide search in which every secret service operator in the country was engaged, and after flooding the United States and Canada with spurious five-dollar gold pieces, Rollie A. York and Edward Karr, former Oakland police officers, were brought here today. York lived at 344 Peralta street and Carr at 1205 Poplar street.

Their wives are said to be still in this city.

In all $900,000 worth of bogus coin was circulated by the pair, who are believed to be members of a larger gang, which has scattered to the four corners of the country.

CLEVER WORK CHARGED.

So clever were the counterfeits said to be that they were accepted as standard coins by the banks, and it was only by careful weighing and close scrunity that the deception could be discovered. It was this startling likeness to the real coins that prevented detection on the part of the government officials, it is alleged, and enabled the gang to work for eight months before they were finally overhauled. The spurious coins coins are said to contain $2.50 worth of gold and to bear the ring of the real article.

York and Karr are well known here. They were former Southern Pacific conductors, resigning their positions with the railroad about January 1. At this time they became eligible as police officers on the substitute list. It is believed by the police that their counterfeiting operations began at this time, and that they thought that while acting as public guardians they would escape suspicion in passing the counterfeit money. Later their plans were changed, and in February they resigned. Then it was decided to engage in the jitney business, and both men are understood to have operated passenger-carrying cars here for some months. During all this time the coins were being circulated. When they thought suspicion was strong in certain quarters, it is claimed, they shifted their operations to Stockton.

DETECTED IN SALOON.

It was there that the first line on them was obtained. A bartender in a saloon with a gold-weighing scale had a hobby of testing gold coins received. One was passed to him and he saw that it was very light. The police were notified and both men arrested. Another coin was found on Karr. He, however, declared that it had been given to him and that it might happen to any citizen, and the police released him. Shortly afterwards they completely disappeared.

Secret Service Agent Harry Moffitt and his chief assistant, Thomas Foster, have been in charge of the local investigation. On information he received Moffitt left town several weeks ago and traced York through Canada, finally landing him in Cleveland, O. Meantime Chief Secret Service Agent M. Callhan came upon Karr in Ogden. Both men were brought here by Moffitt, Callahan and Foster, and according to the officials the evidence is strong against them. How long the money has been in circulation is a question nobody knows. In some quarters it is said that for three years the spurious coins have been in circulation.

Last winter and during the spring Oakland was flooded with lightweight five-dollar gold pieces which had been "sweated." The number of these in circulation became so great that the banks and large business houses and the police department had small scales placed where the money could be readily weighed to find whether it had been "sweated."

Thousands of dollars in lightweight five-dollar gold pieces were discovered in circulation in this manner. It is believed that this money was originally distributed by York and Karr or their agents.

York and Karr were members of the police department from January 1 to February 1. It is said that they quit the service at the same time. Each applied for permission to take civil service examination and was duly placed on the eligible list.

BULGARIAN TROOPS ATTACK RAILROAD

By Associated Press.

ATHENS, Oct. 15 8 p. m., via Paris, Oct. 16, 11:50 a. m.—Forty thousand Bulgarian troops with artillery are reported to have begun an attack on the Itarda bridge between Valandovo on the railroad running from Saloniki into Serbia and Hovdovo. The point of attack is about twenty miles north of the Greek border. The Bulgarians apparently are attempting to cut railroad communication and prevent the entente allies from forwarding troops and supplies for the assistance of the Serbians.

Lighthouses on the Bulgarian coast have been extinguished. Entrance to the port of Dedeaghatch, Bulgaria's principal point on the Aegean Sea, has been forbidden except in the day time, when a pilot is required. All Bulgarian ports are said to have been mined.

'INNOCENT,' WIVES SAY DETECTIVES RAID HOME

Three days ago federal detectives raided the home of Mrs. Mary O'Connell, aunt of Mrs. York, at 941 Peralta street. Mrs. York was staying with her aunt during her husband's absence.

Mrs. O'Connell is in a seriously nervous state as the result of the raid, and Mrs. Carr, wife of the other man, is at the home of her mother, also badly unnerved by the shock of the sudden arrest that for husband is in custody. The girl, who is young and pretty, declares that she will do all in her power to aid her husband in clearing himself.

"I know in my heart that this is all a mistake and that my husband and Mr. York are absolutely innocent," declared Mrs. Carr this morning on receiving news of the arrest. Mrs. Carr and her mother, Mrs. Henry C. Poole, both reiterate their faith in the former policeman and declare that they will stand by him to the end. Henry C. Poole, the man's father-in-law, was mouffied at his offices in San Francisco this morning and will be asked to aid in the defense.

"ABSURD," SHE SAYS.

"It is absurd," declared the wife. "Both boys come of good families. Ed had a good home and was happy and [illegible]

According to the wife, the two men left some weeks ago for the East, ostensibly to look for work. The first she heard of the trouble, she says, was today when she received a telegram telling of the arrests.

"I am not going to say anything about the case until I learn more particulars," she declared. "At present the bare fact of there having been an arrest is all that I know. It was an absolute surprise to me.

"I do not for a moment believe that either boy is anything but the victim of a terrible mistake. I will stand by him, and it is not true that we have been separated."

Mrs. Poole declares that the reputation of the former policeman has always been as far as she knows, good, and that both she and her husband, his father-in-law, have never had reason to suspect him of any wrong. Mrs. Carr is with her mother at the family home, 1295 Poplar street.

"INNOCENT," SHE ASSERTS.

Mrs. York left this morning for San Francisco and could not be located. She and her husband had broken up housekeeping when he went East and she is living with her aunt, Mrs. Mary O'Connell.

"She just came in with a couple of suitcases," said Mrs. O'Connell. "Her husband I know little about. I have seen him, of course, and also the other young man. The first intimation of trouble that I had was when the detectives came here, three days ago, and searched the house, turning it from top to bottom. They didn't find anything, but turned the whole place upside down. Today I learned of the arrests.

"I believe York is innocent. There is nothing wrong about him as far as I know, and his wife certainly knows nothing about the affair."

agents the first clew to the identity of the two men. However, it was not until Secret Service Agent Moffit discovered 500 of the spurious gold pieces in a water tank in the lavatory of the saloon, several days later, that it was known for certain that the two men were members of the gang for whom the government had been seeking. When Detective Walter Walker, summoned to the saloon by Hawkins, arrested York and Carr, the following conversation ensued regarding the $5 piece.

"Let me search you," asked Walker.

"Certainly," replied both men at once.

The coin was found on Carr and he was hustled to the office of the chief of police.

"I have another gold piece, chief, but it was passed on me like the other one. Both York and myself were members of the Oakland police department. We are men of family and reputation in the community."

MEN ARE RELEASED.

Their story was believed and they were allowed to go. A report, however, was made to Moffitt. He went to Stockton and discovered the sack of gold pieces. Then for the first time the government had a clew to the identity of the men who for three years had been passing the coin throughout the country.

According to local secret service men the flood of spurious coin money did not begin to pour on the market until after the opening of the exposition. It was then that the bogus gold pieces were circulated freely on the zone and among the cafes on the fair grounds. The number of secret service men detailed here was then doubled, but so clever was the counterfeiting that there was no clew until the Stockton incident was reported.

Indictments have been returned here against York and Carr. They were placed on the secret file several weeks ago.

ble for the latter's flight from Juarez yesterday.

Villa replied, it was said, with a message to General Medinavetia Wednesday to go to Juarez and execute Ornelas. The message was intercepted, Ornelas advised and his flight followed, it is said.

The entire Ornelas administration, with a host of clerks and minor appointees of Ornelas, is now in El Paso. Its principals consist of Mayor Luis J. Montfort, Commandant of Police Esquiel Morales, Chief of Secret Service Miguel Pollas, and Hector Ramos, head of the secret service department.

General Medinavetia, in complete military charge of Juarez, last night prohibited the crossing of Juarez citizens to El Paso unless they were known to be loyal to Villa.

Soldiers patrolled Juarez last night and the gambling halls were deserted of Americans. Official reports in Juarez state that General Villa has returned to Casas Grandes. It was said that Thursday his march to Sonora was halted by news of the defection of General Ornelas. It was said that he would remain at Casas Grandes ready to return to Juarez if needed. Army circles in El Paso received an unconfirmed report that General Villa had been arrested by several of his generals on his return to Casas Grandes, and his court martial had been ordered. The report was denied by Juarez officials.

NATIONS AGREE ON RECOGNITION PLAN

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Favorable responses were received today from all the governments participating in the Pan-American conference which decided to recognize General Carranza. Secretary Lansing has called a meeting of the conferees next Monday to arrange the form of recognition.

Argentina, Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala replied yesterday. Today favorable word came from Brazil and Chile.

Inasmuch as some of the countries still have diplomatic representatives in Mexico, a renewal of relations in an official matter cannot be arranged. The United States and several other countries, however, have not had diplomatic representatives for some time in Mexico City, and recognition probably will take the form of the presentation of a note to General Carranza through the medium of Eliseo Arredondo, his representative here, who will depart for Mexico to meet General Carranza.

With the presentation of such a note an embargo on arms would go into effect against opposing factions, and an ambassador or charge d'affaires would be sent as soon as a selection could be made.

believed to have occurred. Dr. Lewis Atwood of Topeka and Alma K. Jellin of Garrison, Kansas, were the only identified dead up to noon. At that hour it was estimated forty persons had been injured.

According to a message from Randolph the wreck was caused by the washing out of the abutment of the bridge across Fancy Creek. As a result of heavy rains last night the stream was running bank full. The bridge itself did not give way but when the heavy car struck the embankment it sunk end down into nine feet of water and two or three feet of mud. The car stands almost perpendicular. There were two cars to the train, but the trailer broke loose and remained standing on the track.

37 PASSENGERS ARE TAKEN ALIVE FROM CAR

By Associated Press.
OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 16.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon Union Pacific headquarters reported that two bodies had been recovered from the wreck near Randolph, Kansas, and possibly six others are still in the water where the car went down. Thirty-seven passengers were taken from the car alive.

NICHOLL SITE IS FAVORED BY VOTE

By a Majority of 529 Votes Richmond Decides to Accept Offer of Capitalist.

RICHMOND, Oct. 16. — By a majority of 529 votes the Nicholl city hall site at Twenty-third and Macdonald, won yesterday over the Wall site on Cutting boulevard in an election at which a little over 50 per cent of the total registration voted. The total figures were: Total vote cast, 3273; total registration, 6531; for the ordinance accepting Nicholl's offer, 1844; against the ordinance, 1792; for the resolution accepting Wall's offer, 1336; against the resolution, 1782.

The west side favored the Wall proposition by a two to one vote, but did not give enough majority to overcome the tremendous Nicholl vote on the east side of the city. The vote was nearly 10 to 1 in the precincts about Twenty-third and Macdonald. A movement to vote down both propositions seemed to have little weight, as few votes were cast so marked.

As a result of the election the city council will now immediately proceed to get plans and specifications drawn for the new building in the Nicholl site and will then call for bids. "There appears to be no reason for delay in the matter," said City Attorney Hall this morning.

The Nicholl check for $25,000 is in the hands of a committee, who will turn the amount over to the city for the building, and deeds for the lots are in escrow subject to the election.

CHICO PORTUGUESE SWALLOWS STRYCHNINE

CHICO, Oct. 16.—Ernest Marks, a Portuguese, wandered into the home of Frank Frary and his actions frightened Mrs. Frary, who called the police. Constable Benner went to the house and found Marks suffering from symptoms of poison. He called Dr. J. N. Crabbe, who said Marks had taken strychnine.

The physician treated Marks and succeeded in overcoming the effects of the poison. The patient remained at the Frary home and is recovering. He gave no reason for taking the strychnine.

SUN CAUSES FIRE.

DURHAM, Oct. 16.—It is thought the fire which destroyed the prune shed of Robert W. Durham and 25 tons of prunes was caused by the rays of the sun shining through a window on some loose hay. The loss is estimated at $6000, without insurance. At the time of the fire Durham was attending the funeral of the late Justice of the Peace William McAnarlin.

BALKAN IMBROGLIO ENTERS NEW PHASE

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 16, 12:20 p. m.—Reciprocal war declarations between Bulgaria and Great Britain and Serbia, together with King Ferdinand's manifesto to the Bulgarian people defining Bulgaria's cause and intention, have marked another phase in the Balkan situation, which is slowly emerging from obscurity.

Greece's decision not to join forces with Serbia at present, although causing profound disappointment in England, and being regarded by many London commentators as equivocal and as violating the obligations to Serbia, has, at least, been announced in words permitting of no further doubt as to the immediate position of affairs, which, however, circumstances might alter any moment.

Rumania remains the only sphynx-like figure in the Balkans, having, according to a telegram received in Paris from Bucharest, decided to maintain strict neutrality, although this is not taken in London to be a definite answer.

Field Marshal von Mackensen's campaign against Serbia is developing with a slowness that is very gratifying to the allies of Serbia. He has advanced slightly and made some captures, but his troops, according to advices received in the British capital, have so far obtained no important results.

SERB FRONTIER ATTACKED.

The First Bulgarian army is attacking the Serbian frontier northeast of Nish, the present capital of King Peter, and is occupying the mountain pass. Confident dispatches from Nish say that unless the Austro-Germans bring up further reinforcements the Serbian troops will be able to hold their defenses. An unofficial Balkan report said the Serbian army has retaken Pisana and Rounva, which were captured by the Bulgarians October 13.

On the western front the chief activity is reported along the French line, where small French advantages have been equaled, if not overshadowed, by the German gains, the French being forced to surrender some trenches in the Vosges under a heavy bombardment and a far-flung infantry attack. The Germans also have gained some ground in the Champagne region.

The British front has undergone no changes, according to Sir John French, the British commander-in-chief, although the Germans officially claim to have recaptured many of the trenches taken Wednesday by the British on the Loos front.

LONDON IN DOUBT.

The London press continues to express doubt as to the thoroughness of the defensive measures taken for the protection of London from air raids.

Premier Asquith, it is announced, will be asked in the House of Commons next Tuesday whether Paris lately had been immune from air attacks, and if the air defenses of that city have been carefully studied by the British authorities. Annan Bryce, brother of Viscount Bryce, formerly British ambassador at Washington, will ask Mr. Asquith whether the British aeroplane squadron received an order to demobilize at 6 o'clock on the afternoon of last Wednesday; whether other aeroplanes received orders to take their places, and whether, when the Zeppelins arrived, any, if so how many, airships were aloft.

GERMANS VAINLY STRIKE AT DVINSK

By Associated Press.
PETROGRAD, Oct. 16, via London, 2:47 p. m.—With the exception of Drinsk on the northern end of the Russian battle front, where fierce artillery battles continue, the Germans appear to be on the defensive along the entire eastern front.

Russian military officials say they have obtained information that the German armies have been ordered to take defenses at any cost. German attacks at this point have been made with the utmost impetuosity under cover of a terrific fire but so far they have been unable to break down the Russian defense. The German losses are reported to have been extremely heavy.

MACKENSEN CAPTURES POSITIONS BY STORM

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, Oct 16, via London, 8.03 p. m.—Further progress of the armies of Field Marshal von Mackensen, invading Serbia, is reported by the War Office today. The storming of positions south of Semendria and east of Pozarevac is announced.

Bulgarian troops are progressing also in their attack and have taken the eastern forts of Zajecar.

An attempt by the French to capture a German position east of Auberive, in the Champagne was repulsed with a loss to the French of more than 600 men in prisoners and three machine guns, Germany army headquarters announced today. Attacks near Souain, Le Mesnil and Lentrey also failed.

HAYWARD, Oct. 16.—Sergeant Charles Nordstrom of this city, a member of the United States marine corps, has come unscathed through three fights in the Haiti revolution, according to a letter received from him by Sergeant Wesley Armstrong. TAX LIST LARGE.

RICHMOND, Oct. 16. — County Tax Collector Martin Joost will have to collect $1,027,000.49 during the next few months, for that is the amount of taxes now on the county list. Of this amount the city of Richmond will pay about one-third, amounting to $332,122.16.

TWO WOMEN ARE FELLED BY THUG

Police Look for Man Who Uses Bottle as Club; Many Terrorized.

With two women already his victims, and the residents of the central and western sections of the city terrorized, the entire police force of Oakland is today seeking a crazed negro, who, using a heavy glass bottle for a club, has a mania for attacking women at night.

Mrs. M. Harden, 511 Thirty-seventh street, was knocked unconscious by the "bottle fiend" last night, when she was walking home with a woman friend. She was attacked at Twenty-sixth street between Telegraph and Broadway.

Thursday night, Mrs. George Harris, 975 Twenty-first street, was attacked in a similar manner at Filbert and Twenty-first street, and her life was saved by the fact that she had a heavy mass of hair in an elaborate coiffure, which broke the force of the blow.

KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS.

Mrs. Harden and her friend were walking east on Twenty-sixth street, toward Broadway, when a man approached them, going in the opposite direction. They separated to let him pass between them. As he did so he suddenly swung around and struck Mrs. Harden on the head with the bottle, knocking her unconscious to the sidewalk. Her friend screamed and the thug ran away. Passers-by assisted in removing Mrs. Harden to her home. Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen, who has detailed detectives on the cases, stated today that the man is apparently not actuated by an intent to commit robbery, and it is probable that he is partly demented.

No attempt was made in either case by the fiend to interfere with his victim after the first attack. He apparently carries the heavy glass bottle under his coat and in readiness to deal a smashing blow from behind after he has passed a woman on the street.

If the thug is not captured in the near future, a warning will be issued that it is unsafe for women to go unescorted through the streets.

CONTRA COSTA TO SUE FOR PERSONAL TAXES

MARTINEZ, Oct. 16.—Tax Collector Martin Joost of Contra Costa county has completed the county tax roll and finds he must collect $1,027,762.49. Of this the incorporated cities must contribute $419,429.97 and the outside portion of the county $599,963.22. Of the incorporated cities Richmond will pay 73 per cent of the tax, or $329,122.16.

In addition to the general tax there is a personal property tax of $3865.71. This is coming in so slowly that Joost has asked the District Attorney to levy attachments against all property which has not paid in. This will mean about 860 suits it is said. The District Attorney is preparing to file the actions.

DEFENSE PLANS ARE COMPLETED

COST WILL TOTAL $400,000,000

PRESIDENT APPROVES PROGRAM

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Provision for a military force of 665,000 men and construction by 1920 of sixteen battleships—ten dreadnaughts and six battle cruisers—are included in plans for national defense as approved by President Wilson which had virtually reached completion today.

This great military force would be provided for by the creation of a continental army of 400,000 men, an increase in the regular army of 140,000 men and a militia strength of 125,000 men.

The program for the navy provides for the construction during the first year of a five-year period of two dreadnaughts, two battle cruisers, twenty-five submarines, five sea-going submarines, twelve destroyers, and provides an increase of 5000 in personnel and an increase of 250 in the naval academy student body. At the end of the five years it is proposed to add to the navy, in addition to the sixteen capital ships, more than seventy submarines, fifty destroyers, ten scout cruisers and the necessary auxiliaries. The total cost would be $200,000,000.

The defense plans call for a total expenditure on the army and navy next year of approximately $400,000,000. The army annual appropriations would be increased by $75,000,000 to provide for augmenting the regular army and the creation of a continental army.

F. P. Valentine, 1441 Broadway, an aged man, is believed to have committed suicide, and the police have been asked to assist in a search for him. Valentine disappeared yesterday, after leaving a rambling note to his son, H. A. Valentine, in which he intimated that he planned to take his life. The note read as follows:

"Dear Harvey and all: I am going a long ways away, never to come back. Will never see any of you again. Be good; take this $5 and go right up to your mother and do the best you can. I am all in; don't know but I may be crazy. Guess I am, but I can't help that. Everybody thinks I am going up to the ranch and will be back in a couple of weeks. You can tell Pearl so if you want to. I have gone the limit. Write to mother, as I can't see well. Good-by. From your lost Dad."

Valentine is described as follows: Sixty-two years of age, 5 feet 6 inches in height, weighing 140 pounds, white hair, blue eyes and fair complexion; when last seen wore a blue serge suit green overcoat and green box hat.

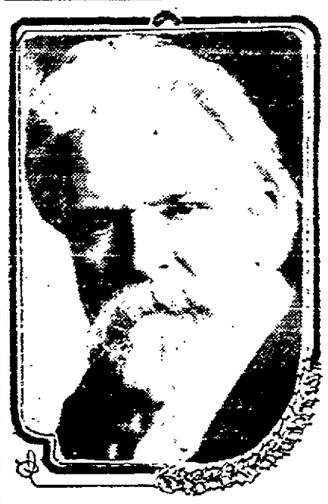
MARKHAM TO READ FROM OWN WORKS



EDWIN MARKHAM.

Edwin Markham, the distinguished poet, and ex-Oaklander, will give a reading from his poetical works in the Eighth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, corner of Eighth avenue and Seventeenth street, Sunday evening, October 17. Rev. John M. Jackson is the newly installed pastor.

The occasion is much in the nature of a home-coming celebration for Markham, bringing together associations of the poet's life in this city. After an absence of sixteen years Markham is now in California upon the invitation of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to write the Exposition Ode. It was while a principal of one of the Oakland schools that Markham published "The Man With the Hoe." The poem enjoyed a greater immediate favor than was ever accorded any poetical work. This and his subsequent works have won him general recognition as "The Greatest Living American Poet."

Markham's poetry is radically Christian in its spirit and purpose. The poems which he will read Sunday night will feature a talk by him on "Why Not Try Christianity?" He will be introduced by the mayor of the city.

Miss Clara Morehouse of New York, national secretary, conducted the installation ceremonies, and details of several plans for movements were outlined by the women. Delegates from some twenty circles of the Daughters in Northern California were represented at the session.

A memorial service was held for the late Miss H. C. Simpson, late honorary member of the executive committee. Miss Morehouse was heard in an address on the work of the order, instancing different lines of new activities conducted by the King's Daughters. A reception was given for the national officer at the close of the business meeting.

COULD NOT REMEMBER IF HE HAD A WIFE

August Pinto, who was recently released from the Stockton asylum, where he was committed several years ago, was in doubt as to whether or not he had ever been married. His memory failed him, so he called upon Deputy Clerk E. J. Holland late yesterday afternoon.

"Have I ever been married?" he asked Holland.

Holland searched the records. They showed that a marriage license had been issued to Minnie Travers and August Pinto in 1905.

"Yep, I'm a married man," Pinto declared. "I'll have to hunt up my wife."

MAKERS WOULD AID DEFENSE.

J., Oct. 16.—At the closing of the annual sessions here the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association requested President Wilson to name a committee of manufacturers to find in what time and in what quantities such materials and munitions as may be needed by the federal government for an adequate defensive force can be obtained. STATE LEADERS TO FIGHT BILL

All Political Parties Rally for Defeat of Non-Partisan Measure.

While all political parties of Alameda county have rallied in the campaign to be waged against the so-called non-partisan election bill, the state organizations, also banded into one movement, have perfected arrangements for backing up the local organizations, and will fire the first big gun of their fight at Dreamland Rink, in San Francisco, on October 22. This big protest meeting against the project will be addressed by leaders of the different parties in California. Samuel Shortridge, Republican, and John B. Curtin, Democrat, will speak for their parties, and several other addresses from other parties will be heard.

Two important messages from national leaders have been delivered to the voters by the committee. From Alton B. Parker comes the message: "Wipe out parties and you have a personal government which all American statesmen have constantly sought to avoid."

"No one," said former President William H. Taft, "in the whole history of the wildest hysteria of radical legislation has ever before suggested destruction of party government in states."

The committee is as follows: Robert P. Troy, Walter R. Bacon, J. N. Gillett, Francis V. Keesling, Fred H. Hall, A. E. Boynton, H. H. McPike, John B. Curtin, W. C. Ralston.

H. H. McPike, secretary of the committee, said:

"We are in touch with a large number of the various party committees, and are daily receiving satisfactory reports as to a steady and very evident increase in the opposition to the non-party measures.

Mrs. Virginia M. Spinks, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee's executive committee, reported that all of the women in the Democratic club organizations were strongly opposed to the bills.

Ferdinand Declares War Is Near Close

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—A copy of the manifesto of King Ferdinand to the Bulgarians, portions of which were forwarded from Sofia recently by telegraph, reached London today. The manifesto implies Bulgaria has no quarrel with the entente powers. It explains that they, like Germany, were prepared to give Bulgaria the greater part of Macedonia.

"Our treacherous neighbor, Serbia, alone remained inflexible in the face of the advice of her friends and allies," the manifesto continues. "Far from listening to their counsels, Serbia, in animosity, stupidly attacked our territory and our brave troops have been forced to fight for the defense of their own soil."

In conclusion King Ferdinand says:

"The European war is nearing a close. The victorious armies of the central empires in Serbia are advancing rapidly. I command our valiant army to drive the enemy from the limits of our kingdom and crush this felon neighbor. We shall fight the Serbs at the same time as the brave armies of the central empires."

ARMENIAN INTERVENTION PUT UP TO GERMANY

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—"There is only one power that can stop the Armenian atrocities, and that is Germany," declared Viscount Bryce at a meeting at the Mansion House in support of the lord mayor's fund in aid of the Armenian sufferers.

He declared that the only remedy was to bring the pressure of the world opinion, particularly of neutral opinion, to bear on Germany and force her to take action.

The horrors of the massacre exceeded anything in the history of persecutions, declared the speaker. Women and children, he said, had been driven across the Arabian desert with whips by the Turks, who went mad and at Trebizond carried their victims out to sea in boats and drowned them.

He declared untrue the excuse offered by Germans for the Turks to the effect that the Armenians had rebelled, the speaker declaring that the Armenians were quiet and inoffensive until forced to defend themselves.

Sir Edwin Pears, who had been the leader of the British bar in Constantinople, surprised his hearers by saying that persecution was not an article of Mohammedan faith, and that the massacres were deplored by the mass of the Turks.

GERMAN PRESS FLAYS EX-MINISTER DELCASSE

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 16 (by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—The assertion is made by the Tageblatt that Theophile Delcasse, who recently resigned as foreign minister of France, opposed the landing of French troops at Saloniki.

"Perceiving that popular opinion was turning against him," the Tageblatt adds, "Delcasse seized upon the pretext of the Saloniki expedition as a reason to resign. He was thus able to disappear from politics in the attitude of a man who foresaw calamities and warned the nation, while in reality he, together with President Poincare and War Minister Millerand, brought about the present situation."

The Vossiche Zeitung says:

"Delcasse's whole career was based upon the idea of revenge. He entered parliament with a speech in favor of a Franco-Russian alliance. He always represented the idea of war on Germany. He was inspired by the late King Edward, one of the most active workers for the isolation of Germany. In 1905 Clemenceau thought that Delcasse had disappeared from public life, never again to return. But he did reappear, and if he is now abandoned forever by his former associates their decision comes too late for France."

CANADIAN ARTILLERY SHELLED BY ZEPPELIN

By Associated Press.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 16.—The camp of the artillery brigade of the Second Canadian division at Otterpool, Kent, England, was shelled by German Zeppelins on the evening of Wednesday, October 13, it is indicated in last night's casualty list, which records a number of men killed in the Fifth Artillery brigade and one in the Twenty-ninth battery, C. F. A. Last night's list gave the names of seven men of the Fifth brigade killed by bombs and shells. The number of Canadians approximates the total of military casualties issued by the Home Office in London, England, and indicates that this was probably the only real military damage in the raid.

DUKE OF ORLEANS RETURNS ORDERS

Authorizes Teuton Allies to Deliver Bulgarian Decorations to King Ferdinand.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The Duke of Orleans addressed a letter to King Ferdinand of Bulgaria several days ago requesting the monarch to take back jewels of Bulgarian orders which had been bestowed upon him, but the letter was published only on the day Bulgaria entered the war. In his communication the duke said:

"The attitude your majesty has thought right to take in the present war, contrary to your previous policy, forces me to the sad duty of praying your majesty to take back the jewels of Bulgarian orders with which your majesty invested me, first upon the death of your venerable mother, and second when your majesty was in Paris to point out how much Bulgaria owed to France.

"I tell your majesty to take back the jewels because, alas! I cannot send them, but your majesty has only to apply to his ally who for more than a year has occupied my chateau in Belgium, and for whom my safe can have no secrets. I authorize giving up to your majesty orders I can no longer wear.

"Your majesty will understand I am [illegible] he takes up arms against my country, France, his name will be struck from the chapter of Knights of the Holy Spirit. I do not ask your majesty to send back the jewels of the Order of the Holy Spirit, but wish, on the contrary, that these souvenirs of the France he has betrayed shall keep alive perpetual remorse."

A letter the duke wrote to Emperor Francis Joseph at the outbreak of the war also has been published. In it he asks the ruler of Austro-Hungary to take back the jewels of the Order of the Golden Fleece, and refers to her majesty, the Archduchess Maria Dorothea, as "The Misfortune of My Life."

Prince Louis Phillippe, Duke of Orleans and the French pretender, was married to Archduchess Maria Dorothea of Austria at Vienna in November, 1896. She obtained a separation from him in Paris in July of last year after years of domestic difficulties. Under the decree granted by the court of arbitration she was to receive $11,000 a year from the duke, who also was ordered to restore to her money which he had used improperly. While the seperation was granted, the court refused to recommend a decree of divorce.

VENIZELOS HOPEFUL OF ALLIES' VICTORY

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—Earnest hope for the success of the allies was expressed by former Premier Venizelos of Greece, when asked by the Athens correspondent of the Matin to express his opinion of the refusal of the new Greek government to send an army to the assistance of Serbia.

"It was because I foresaw the new government would take this attitude that I made the speech I did in the chamber on the 12th. I have nothing to add to it, but none hopes more ardently than I for an early and decisive success for the allies. I am more deeply convinced today than I was yesterday of their final triumph."

In his speech in the chamber on the 12th, M. Venizelos declared the majority in the chamber, which he controlled, would give its support to the government as long as the government did not alter the principles of his policy to which the chamber had already given a vote of approval.

"The question is not," he said, "whether we ought to make war, but when we ought to enter the war."

Premier Zaimis announced yesterday that Greece would not enter the war on the side of the allies, "at present."

OAKLAND 'TECH' TRIUMPHS OVER OLD RUGBY RIVAL

Record Crowd Cheers as the "Dope" Is Shattered in High School Classic.

A long string of successive victories of former years was broken, the "dope" was shattered and over 2500 loyal prep scholars were tarried yesterday afternoon at Eighteenth and Wood streets when the Oakland Technical High school rugby team defeated Oakland High by a score of 10 to 5. The game was anybody's until the final shot was fired, leaving the two teams battling like wild cats in the center of the field.

The game was great, and the crowd was by far the largest that has ever witnessed a prep school game in the history of Alameda county athletics. Tech High, encouraged by a rooting section of over 1000 lusty noise makers led by five yell leaders, upset the "dope" by outplaying Oakland at their own game—forward play. The forwards of the Blue and White were rated the only hope for victory yesterday, but Tech surprised them, and outplayed the Oaklanders all the way.

The game was about fifteen minutes old in the first half when the first try of the game was scored. Oakland had previously fought Tech to their ten-yard line through a cross kick which escaped Torgenson, Tech's wing. A line-out was called here and the Tech forwards showed their superiority by securing the ball. After carrying it about five yards, the pigskin was passed to Garcia, who ran ten yards more and then booted to touch. Another line-out and again the ball got out to Garcia, who made another ten-yard gain. After a fierce ruck play, Vinnie Irish, the lad who proved Oakland's undoing in basketball last year, grabbed the ball and tore through for a fifteen-yard run over the line. Black easily converted.

That was the only score in the first half, but in the second Tech's defense weakened on their ten-yard line and Hall scored. Howell converted. After the drop-out Tech fought Oakland right back to their line and after the ball was played up and down for ten minutes a five-yard scrum and a heave found Dougherty over the line with the deciding try of the game, which Black again converted.

With only about five minutes to go the Oakland forwards started a rally and dribbled the ball forty yards to Tech's fifteen-yard line. A fine boot by Girvin and a ruck play sent the ball back into Tech territory again, where the game ended.

The lineups: Tech—Front rank, Hoesterman (Patterson), Dougherty; breaks, Irish, Starrett; lock, Jordan; rear rank, Van de Peer, Smith; wing forward, Black; half, Bush; five, Garcia (Capt.), Dalton; three-quarters, McMeekin, Smale, Torgenson; full, Hewson (Girvin).

Oakland—Front rank, Howell, Watt (Belgrano); breaks, Beverley, Charleton; lock, Nielson; rear rank, H. Anderson, E. Anderson; half, C. Atwater; fives, Heyns, Hall; three-quarters, Glickbarg, McGregor, Henderson, full, B. Atwater. Referee, Flannagan.

When 'Tech' Trimmed Oakland High And Upset All Football Precedent

These photographs, taken by The Tribune photographer yesterday, show that prep. games have their thrilling moments as well as the collegiate struggles. Here's a section of fair Tech. rooters rejoicing at the triumph over Oakland High. Inset panel shows a mid-field scrimmage between the two fifteens.

BASKETBALL

The St. Joseph's Athletic Club basketball teams, 130 and 145 pounds, are now on the field, and have several games for the coming season. They are practicing nightly for their first game, with the Mercury team on Monday evening, October 19, at the Mosswood court. The Athletics last year were very successful on the basketball court, winning twelve games and losing one. There are several new faces this year, and no doubt the team is much stronger than it has ever been. With the addition of Soares and Porter at forward, the team has one of the fastest pieces of machinery around the bay section. Stickles, at guard, working with Lemos and Read, have developed into guards of the first class.

The 130-pound team is also a crack aggregation. Obrien, Mullins, Duffy, Hudson and Kenney, have played together all last season and have their team work and signals working in first class order. This team meets the crack St. Ambrose team of Berkeley, on the evening of November 3, and also the crack "Butte" team of San Francisco, who last year swept all before them.

Manager Lemos would like to hear from any 130-145-pound teams, especially country teams. Winters and Martinez preferable. Address 1616 Tenth street, Oakland, Cal.

BERKELEY 1915 TEAM WINS.

The Mercury basketball team was defeated by the Berkeley 1915 team at Mosswood park on Wednesday by a score of 28 to 22. Features of the game were the fast plays made by both teams. The game was the closest and most exciting ever played on Mosswood court. The Mercuries complimented Coach McKay for turning out such a gentlemanly team. Lineups:

Mercury Club	Position.	Berkeley 1915
Johnson	Forward	Avery
Smith	Forward	Price
White	Center	Irwin
Hopkins (manager)	Guard	Schmidt
Kemp	Guard	Frank

Referee—First half, McKay; second half, Oman. Score half time, 16 to 11.

MERCURIES DOWN ST. AMBROSE.

The Mercury basketball team defeated the St. Ambrose team at Berkeley on October 15 by a score of 28 to 22. The feature of the game was the way in which the Mercuries overcame a big lead in the second half of the game. Lineups:

Mercury Club.	Position.	St. Ambrose.
Hopkins	Forward	McCormick
Nolen	Forward	Avery
White	Center	Jordan
Kemp	Guard	Krebs
Butterworth, Smith	Guard	Doyle

Score half time—St. Ambrose 14, Mercuries 7.

TENNIS CLUB WILL FETE STAR TRIO

The California Lawn Tennis Club has issued invitations to a dinner in honor of the three players who have carried the club colors to victory in the Eastern tennis campaigns of the last three years—William M. Johnston, national champion in singles, Clarence J. Griffin, who with Johnston holds the national double championship, and Maurice McLoughlin. The dinner will be held at the University Club in San Francisco Friday evening, October 22 at 7 o'clock.

TRIBUNE LEAGUE GREETED WITH GREAT ENTHUSIASM

The greatest enthusiasm prevails in amateur and semi-pro baseball circles over the proposed Tribune Mid-Winter Baseball League. Next Tuesday evening will see a gathering of amateur baseball leaders in The Tribune editorial rooms from all sections of the city and surrounding territory. It will be the most important "convention" of its kind yet undertaken.

Herb Remmer, well-known local baseball promoter and booking agent, believes that the league will bring to the front deserving baseball talent, develop youthful stars, and be a great advertisement for California's winter climate.

Lee Solomon, who has been spoken of as a likely candidate for the league presidency, declares that The Tribune League will be the greatest boost independent baseball has ever had on this side of the bay.

Enough applications have already been assured to guarantee the success of both divisions of the league, but more are wanted. No one who has not filed application for admission to the league will be permitted to vote next Tuesday night:

BASEBALL BRIEFS

Oakland and Vernon meet here tomorrow morning for the last time this season. Interest has been stimulated locally by the slump of the Seals, which makes it possible that Oakland will have a chance to cheat San Francisco out of the pennant next week by making a clean sweep of the series. Such a thing is improbable, of course, but not impossible.

Harry Hooper, Duffy Lewis and Dutch Leonard are all homeward bound, according to word received by their friends in this city. A reception awaits Lewis at his home in Alameda and at Boise Springs, while St. Mary's College wants to do honor to its sons.

Hen Berry is arranging a post-series between the Seals, probable pennant winners, and a team of all stars recruited from major and Coast League clubs. The series will probably start Wednesday, October 27, with a game here Thursday afternoon and Sunday morning. A five-game series will then be played in Los Angeles. Duffy Lewis, Harry Hooper, Dutch Leonard, Eddie Burns and several other stars are expected to play.

BILLIARDS

Cowboy Weston completed his two weeks' exhibition at the Oakland billiard parlor last night with a grand exhibition of pool playing. Weston had for an opponent F. Plumb, who is easily the best player on this side of the bay. He might as well have been the worst, for all the effect it had on Weston, who was in unbeatable form, and Plumb could make no headway whatever. Weston winning 100 to 37. W. Michael gave Weston a hard contest in the three-cushion billiard contest, and looked a likely winner of the prize for high score when he had scored 20 points to Weston's 21. But class showed and Weston scored his total of 25 to 21 for Michael. John Rorzen secured the prize for the best showing at billiards, having made 25 on the opening night. Ernest Brown won the prize for high score at pocket billiards, getting 57 to Weston's 100. Weston did not lose a contest in the two weeks' play, and proved a grand entertainer as well as a finished player.

Oakland's Infielders Boot Game Away

Oakland's first line of defense crumpled yesterday beneath the attack of the Tigers, and Rowdy's men were compelled to surrender to the enemy 5-2. They were lucky to hold the score that close, for Charley Pruiett was wild, and the men behind him played erratically. The usually sure-handed Bobby Stow booted twice, Hosp erred also, and so did Third Baseman Duddy. Several other miscues were termed hits by the scorer.

Despite the boots, there was much circus stuff enacted, for instance, when the gay Mr. Lin Berger speared Johnston's drive in the first inning with his meat hand and doubled an Oak at second, and later in the game when Bobby Stow retaliated with much the same play. "Red" Kuhn also got a round of applause when he nipped a double steal by going into the air after Stow's bad return throw and alighting on the countenance of Billy Purtell. The score:

By Associated Press.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 16.—Salt Lake took the fourth game of the series with San Francisco here, 7 to 3. The game was featured by heavy hitting and brilliant fielding. Fanning, who started for the visitors, was hit hard and was relieved by Couch, who was aided several times by fast fielding. Steen and Smith also worked for the leaders. A double and a home run off Steen scored four runs and spilled the beans. Score:

Coach Schaeffer Talks On Center's Duties

'Germany' Schultz Brought About Revolution in This Position

The seventh football article by Coach Jimmie Schoeffer appears below. In this Coach Schaeffer deals with the position of center, its value and the way the present style came to be originated. The position of center is of indeterminable value, and his work in a game is either the making or breaking of a team. Offensively the style of center has changed little, but defensively the play of this man has been revolutionized since 1905.

ARTICLE VII.

(BY COACH JIMMIE SCHAEFFER.)

Until the football season of 1905, the center of the team always played in the line on defense, or in other words took his position within a few inches of the ball and directly opposite his opponent the offensive center. In the Michigan-Wisconsin game of that year a revolution in the center's style of play was seen. The spectators noticed that the Michigan center was "out of his position," as they thought, because of the fact that he played three yards back of his regular place.

What made his position more noticeable was that he was stopping plays on each side of his position even getting in on tackles out as far as end runs — in fact, he seemed to be in front of every play that took place, stopping many before they were well under way. That day marked the beginning of a new style of play for centers.

From a style that kept the center guarding his place in the line with the opportunity of tackling only runners who tried to gain through his place, it changed to giving him the liberty to stand back and watch the play develop, moving in either direction to take a hand in it.

GIANT TRIED IT FIRST.

"Germany" Schultz, the player who developed this style, was remarkable for his ability. Physically he was a wonder, weighing 260 pounds hard weight and measuring six feet three inches in height. He tackled hard and was a heady man. In the Michigan-Pennsylvania game, for 45 minutes he held the Pennsylvania team scoreless and in the last 15 minutes of play after he was removed from the game because of injuries, Penn scored 28 points. He was picked for the All-American team for three years and in the choice of a team of all-time I-s was given the center position.

Gradually, all teams adopted the loose center style of play, and discarded the old form of defense. New uses were found for this place until it has become in the eyes of many coaches and critics the one important position on the team. Offensively, the center must be an accurate passer. The direct pass to the backfield has increased his responsibility and an erratic passer has about the same effect on his backfield as a poor fielding first baseman has on a baseball infield. He destroys their confidence and slows them down in their start. Not only must the center be a good tackler but he must never be fooled on the course of the ball. Standing straight up he watches the eyes of the opposing backfield in hopes of detecting where the play will go, for some of them are very liable to take one look to see the position of their opponents on the end they are about to hit. This, however, is not conclusive and the center must wait until the ball has taken direction.

NEED RIGHT KIND OF MAN.

If it is a wide end run he allows the man with the ball about two yards' lead as long as he runs toward the sideline. This keeps him from dodging back while at the same time he is able to cover the distance by a diving tackle of the runner turns up the field. The center must be a man able to break up interference, tackle and pass, he must be tall, fairly heavy and a cool-headed person.

Different coaches make diverse uses of their centers, according to the ability of the player himself. If he is a little slow they allow him to play farther back of the line. If he is somewhat short they allow for this disadvantage. If he is a good interference man, the plays are arranged so as to send as many as possible through center. In short, there are a hundred and one ways a man may be used in his position.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

Orvial Eley, the big left-hander of the South Tacoma Tigers, champions of the northwest, will pitch one of the games to be played on the Grove street grounds Sunday afternoon when the Tacoma ball club tackles the Southern Pacific team and the Great Western Power company's nine in a double header.

Eley is twenty years old, stands about six feet in height and weighs, in his baseball uniform, 185 pounds. In the northwest he is considered a very promising pitcher. Joe McGinnity has tried for two seasons to sign Eley for his northwestern league team, but the youngster positively refuses to become a professional." says Biddy Bishop, who is here to see the games in which the Tacoma players are to participate.

"He declares he will first finish his trade, that of boilermaker, before he turns out as a salaried player. Eley is a modest lad, needs polishing off but has a fund of natural ability."

Gus Davis, an Indian boy of 18 years and likewise a left-hander, will be the other pitcher the South Tacoma Tigers will present. Davis is a fast youngster with good curves, excellent control and a ton of smoke. Manager Walter Holmberg of the Tacoma club, says he is not sure yet which game he will use Davis in.

The South Tacoma champions are to play the Southern Pacific club at 1 o'clock and at 3 the northwesterners are to meet the Great Western Power company. Davis may be pitted against the S. P. team in which event Eley will be the pitcher to oppose F. H. Woodward's nine.

The South Tacomas have also two right-handers, Nick Dahl and Oscar Haugland, and if the southpaws get off to a bad start they may be sent to their relief.

"We do not claim to be unbeatable," said Jas. W. Corcoran, president of the Tacoma City baseball league, "but we do claim that we have a fast ball club of the class we represent."

There is considerable interest in the double-header, Sunday, largely because the northwest champions are here to play the Cleveland club for the baseball championship of the United States.

ALLENDALES OUTSLUG BUCCANEERS.

The fast Allendale club was too much for the Buccaneers at Allendale last Sunday. The feature of the game was the batting of Wiedemann and the fielding of Wiebeck and McCloskey, who each cut off several hits by sensational catches. Allendale knocked Abrahamson out of the box in the sixth inning and also hit Bartram hard. Score:

PICTURES GERMANS AS WANTING PEACE

Berkeley School Teacher Describes Conditions at Berlin.

BERKELEY, Oct. 16.—Unusual is the view of German war conditions as presented today by Miss Louetta Weir, graduate of the University of California in the 1905 class and formerly a teacher in the Washington school. Writing home from London, whither she has just arrived from Germany, she details conditions in that country, pointing out these among other things:

The German people are deliberately misled by the authorities.

There is a widespread depression and a general desire for peace at once and at almost any cost.

Many Berliners express regret at the air raids on London.

Prices of foodstuffs are almost prohibitive, and the poorer people have meat once a week and less often.

Miss Weir is expected home in November and will re-enter her position at the Washington school. Her London letter is written under date of September 30.

NEWS IS WITHHELD.

The news of allied advances is kept from the German people by the official censors, she declares. They are told when ground is lost that its extent is slight and that it will immediately be retaken. She continues:

"Among the German people there is a widespread depression. If the Socialists were allowed to hold meetings there would be a demand for peace at any cost, but their mouths are silenced.

"When news was spread that the Bank of England, the Liverpool-street station and a fourth of the city of London had been destroyed many upper class Germans expressed regret that such a fine city should be wiped out, for many people firmly believe that before the war is over London will be destroyed by fire.

"There is a great shortage of raw materials. Rubber has been smuggled in in the form of sausages. The scarcity is so great that no private automobile in Berlin is allowed to use his automobile except the doctors. Rubber floors have been taken up and every scrap in any shape or form has been used.

"So far as food is concerned, the poor have meat only once a week. Butter is 50 cents a pound. Potatoes are very high. Pork is now the most expensive meat in Germany. Sugar is 75 cents a pound."

NEBRASKA MAN TO PREACH.

BERKELEY, Oct. 16.—Rev. Frank S. Delo of Nebraska, just returning from a trip to Alaska, will be the speaker at the 11 o'clock service in St. Michael's. At 7.45 o'clock the pastor will use the stereopticon in presenting views of the work of the church in India, and on the following Sunday evening views of China, Japan, Cuba, Alaska, Hawaii, Philippines and this country will be presented. "God Is Love," by Hanscom; "Lo, Everyone That Thirsteth," by Rogers; "Crossing the Bar," by Hansley, will be the choir numbers.

ALL'S WELL! MOON WILL LIGHT 'LOVE IN A GARDEN'

McCULLAGH PHOTO

BERKELEY, Oct. 16.—The moon is going to keep her engagement. After several weeks of betting, in which various odds have been offered on the unclouded appearance of that luminary this evening for the English Club's play of "Prunella," the morning dawned with the affirmative bettors on the long end.

For "Prunella" would not have been at all right this evening if the moon did not promise to shine! Its chief scenes are set in a love garden and what, inquire the dainty University of California co-eds who participate, would a love garden be without a moon? Unthinkable!

By its light Pierrot and Prunella are to plight their troth and adjust their difficulties and renew their faith. By it, also, the scene of their festivities on the Greek theater stage is to be converted into the sort of amorous fairyland that a more mellow light would have quite spoiled.

The group of mummers, of whom Miss Mona Gardiner, Miss Leslie Brown, Miss Anne Daley, and others, are units, is expected to be one of the features of the evening. The production has been under the direction of a professional coach, J. Boyd Oliver has managed the production of settings. R. H. Chamberlain is business manager, assisted by Gladstone Wilson and W. H. Stephenson. The following is the cast:

YOUTHS TO BEGIN LONG JUNKET EAST

Crack Boy Farmers Away Tomorrow on 9000-Mile Trip With Prof. Crocheron.

BERKELEY, Oct. 16.—Setting forth on a nine-thousand mile journey, thirty young champion farmers will leave Berkeley tomorrow evening. These young travelers are the winners of the prize of a trip across the continent offered by thirty of the boys' agricultural clubs organized by the University of California. Each has outdone all his clubmates in the raising of potatoes, corn, etc., the fattening of pigs for market, or some other competition in modern scientific farming.

Traveling in two special cars, and under the leadership of Professor B. H. Crocheron of the University of California, the young prize farmers will go to Chicago by the Union Pacific, Denver and Rio Grande, and Burlington Railroads, stopping on their way at Salt Lake, Provo, Colorado Springs, Denver, Lincoln, Omaha, and at Ames, Iowa. After a day in the Chicago stock yards they will visit famous automobile factories in Detroit, see Niagara Falls, and spend two days and a half visiting historical sights in and about Boston and seeing some of the most famous dairy herds in America.

After two days and a half in New York they will visit Princeton and spend a day each in Philadelphia and Baltimore. After three days in Washington they will go to Pittsburg and Cincinnati, thence to Lexington, Ky.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Meridian, Miss., and New Orleans, in each of these places seeing a separate and distinct type of Southern agriculture. Then, stopping by the way at sugar plantations, rice plantations, and at a famous Texas cattle ranch, they will journey west to Los Angeles, and thence back to Berkeley.

Ten thousand dollars has this year been given by various California communities as prizes for their various boys' agricultural clubs in the way of this trans-continental journey to inspect agricultural methods in other parts of the country, in the way of other prizes for the boys' crop contest clubs, in traveling expenses for two hundred and fifty delegates of the boys' agricultural clubs who attended their annual convention at the University Farm at Davis, visited the Panama-Pacific Exposition in a body, and for local expenses for crop-growing contests in which the boys have worked wonders of economy, efficiency and profit-making in the raising of fine crops and fine animals.

There are now sixty-five of these Boys' Agriculture Clubs in California. The University of California finds that they are working wonders in proving the marvels that may be wrought on the fertile soil of California by the mixing in of the trains, initiative, and good judgment these boy farmers contribute in their use of the latest modern methods in farming and stock-raising.

TESTIMONIAL GIVEN TO FIRE DEPARTMENT

ALAMEDA, Oct. 16.—As an expression of appreciation of the work performed by the members of the Alameda fire department at the conflagration which destroyed a portion of one of its warehouses October 11 the Alaska Packers' Association has sent a check for $100 to the Fireman's Relief Fund Association of Alameda. J. F. Moser, vice-president and general superintendent of the association, has written a flattering letter to the firemen, sending the communication, with the check, to Fire Chief Walter T. Stenmetz. Moser highly compliments the local fire laddies for their work.

ROAD TO HEALTH IS THROUGH THE KIDNEYS

No person alive is stronger than his kidneys. The minute the kidneys become disarranged or clogged with waste, the warning is flashed throughout the entire system. The greater part of all sickness today can be avoided by keeping the kidneys working properly.

Most any reliable druggist in this vicinity can probably tell you of many well-known people whom Solvax, the standard kidney remedy, has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

There are hundreds of people who were not the least bit surprised when they read awhile ago that The Owl Drug Co. is selling Solvax on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not relieve. This remarkable kidney remedy is guaranteed to help the worst case of lazy, sluggish, or clogged-up kidneys, or the general headachy, kinkybacked, played-out condition that afflicts people suffering with kidney trouble. Solvax does not simply relieve, it aims to cure.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer, and there are hundreds today praising Solvax because it has done for them what it is advertised to do. Not very long ago they were afflicted with all manner of sickish, uncomfortable pains and each day seemed to bring with it a new ache in some other part of their body. Since using Solvax they are once more bright and chipper and able to enjoy life at its fullest with no more fear of suffering.

We doubt if any other kidney remedy has made such a large percentage of cures as Solvax. It is so large that its owners are perfectly safe in standing ready to refund the price to any customer whom it does not help. This is a good time to get well and you ought to take advantage of this offer. Get it from The Owl Drug Co., or any well stocked drug store.—Advertisement

HAYWARD HIGH BIDS OPENED BY TRUSTEES

HAYWARD, Oct. 16.—Bids were opened today by the high school board of trustees for the construction of a gymnasium and manual training building which, it is estimated, will cost in the neighborhood of $8000. The bids call for a frame building to be erected on a site adjacent to the new high school. The addition will be consistent with the improvements at the high school. The laying out of campus, including the lawns in front of the school, has been completed and the athletic grounds are now in first-class condition.

TRADE BOARD DEFIED BY LEIDECKER

Fruitvale Organization Wrought Up Over Davie Banquet

Barkmeyer Ready to Resign Because of Member's Act

Shouting defiance and declaring he would fight single-handed the whole board, C. Leidecker, local printer, caused a stormy scene at the meeting of the Fruitvale Board of Trade last night when he refused to resign from the organization after failing to explain satisfactorily why he had usurped the place of President Henry Barkmeyer at a banquet attended by Mayor John L. Davie, by declaring himself chairman of the evening. Leidecker also took it upon himself, it was charged, to invite Mayor Davie and several of the commissioners to the banquet without the knowledge of the other members of the Board of Trade. The mayor and other city officials attended the festivities, which were in celebration of the completion of street work on East Fourteenth street.

In the course of the charges and counter charges made at the meeting Leidecker said he was present when members of the board warned that if Mayor Davie came to the banquet he would have the door locked against him.

BARKMEYER MAKES STATEMENT.

Declaring he had been grossly insulted by Leidecker's action, and that he had remained away from the banquet when he heard Leidecker had appointed himself in the chair, in order to prevent a scene of rowdyism and quarreling before the city officials, President Barkmeyer presented a statement before the board last night in which he asked them to accept his resignation or deny further membership to Leidecker.

The board unanimously sided with Barkmeyer, and Leidecker was asked to resign. Springing to his feet, Leidecker shouted, "I won't resign." If Leidecker does not voluntarily resign, his payment of dues will not be accepted and he will be expelled, according to the statement of several members of the board.

The split over the banquet question, it is declared, culminated a long standing feud between Leidecker and the rest of the board. While the self-appointed chairman claimed in defense of his action that he was merely doing his duty and did what he thought right in taking the chair and inviting the mayor to be present, others of the board strongly denounced his stand and declared it was a direct insult to all the members.

DECLARES ACT INSULT.

"As a member of the banquet committee I think there is no question. Mr. Leidecker has grossly insulted not only the president of the board, but the members as well," said Past President R. S. Grant in moving that Leidecker be asked to resign.

After making it known in no undecided manner that he had no intention of resigning, Leidecker explained his action. "It was understood at a meeting of the entire board held before the banquet that Mayor Davie and the commissioners would be asked to be present. I was appointed on a committee to arrange the banquet, but in my absence Chairman Schotte and two others of the committee decided to ask Commissioner Baccus and others in his office instead of Mayor Davie. I went to Mr. Barkmeyer and asked him if he had sent invitations to the mayor and he replied 'It is all attended to.' When I learned the committee had acted without my knowledge I went down and asked the mayor to be present," continued Leidecker. "Mr. Barkmeyer, P. C. Frederickson and R. S. Grant were told what I had done and one of them declared that the door would be locked on the mayor if he came. I dared them to do it. As for appointing myself chairman I would have given up the chair to President Barkmeyer if he had attended the banquet."

Former President Grant, heatedly interposing, "It is a nice thing for the president to have to take a second place with the mayor as our guest and for Leidecker to usurp his place. It is a gross insult."

Liedecker—"No, sir."

Secretary A. F. Werum admitted that he might have caused some misunderstanding by not notifying Leidecker of the committee meeting when it was decided to ask Baccus to be present at the banquet. "I'll tender a public apology if you wish it, Mr. Leidecker." Leidecker replied it wasn't necessary.

"It is well known Mr. Leidecker does not get along well with the rest of the board. If I were in a similar position I would think it best to step out," continued Werum.

When the members were asked to take a vote on the question of Leidecker's resignation he again caused a stir by rising and shouting: "Be careful. I don't give that much (snapping his thumb) but I won't resign."

Secretary Werum—"I don't think it right we should be threatened to be careful in this matter. It is not agreeable to me to retain my position as secretary of this board if things are to go on here as they have been doing for the past week."

BACCUS ASKED TO ATTEND.

"As this banquet was to celebrate street work, I and others of the arrangement committee asked Mr. Baccus to attend, and decided that it would be useless to ask Mayor Davie," said C. M. Schotte, chairman of the banquet committee. "Leidecker said he was to be chairman of the evening and Mr. Barkmeyer repudiated this assertion. The rest of the committee made a mistake in not consulting Leidecker about inviting Mr. Baccus, but he also erred in inviting Mayor Davie without asking permission of the others."

President Barkmeyer made no statement at the meeting, but handed in his resignation, which was not accepted, in the following letter.

"To the Fruitvale Board of Trade of Oakland, Oakland, Cal.

"Gentlemen: I herewith respectfully tender you my resignation as president of this Board.

"The reason for my action is well known to most of you, principally, however, because I have not been accorded the common courtesy due the president of our Board.

"At the luncheon given in celebrating the completion of the street work on East Fourteenth street, Mr. Leidecker, whom I appointed on the committee to prepare for the festive gathering of the Board and invited guests, grossly insulted me by declaring himself chairman of the evening. This he did in the presence of Mr. Werum and Mr. Frederickson. Under all parliamentary rules and laws governing societies, this honor and distinction is given to the president, either to avail himself of the honor or select some one whom he thinks would serve the society with more dignity and fewer ifs, than he could himself.

"To save Mr. Schotte and Mr. Grant (the other committeemen) the embarrassing position of taking a stand which might have resulted in rowdyism and probably in the presence of his honor, the mayor and commissioners of our city, and to preserve the dignity and good name of the board, I felt that I could serve the board better with my absence, as there was no place left that I could occupy with proper dignity, as president of the Fruitvale Board of Trade of Oakland.

"Therefore, gentlemen, I feel that I am justified in asking you either to accept my resignation as president of the board or deny the further membership of the Fruitvale Board of Trade of Oakland to Mr. Leidecker.

"Trusting that you will favor me with your immediate action, I am, sincerely and respectfully,

"(Signed) HENRY BARKMEYER."

ORDERED FROM OFFICE.

"During the discussion over Leidecker appointing himself chairman I had occasion to order him out of my office," said President Barkmeyer. "I personally made no statement that Mayor Davie would have the door locked against him. It was simply a case of either Mr. Leidecker or myself leaving the board after what he had said.

"Leidecker had business interests to serve in asking the mayor to be present and he appointed himself chairman to make a good showing," concluded Barkmeyer, alluding to Leidecker's efforts to gain some of the municipal printing.

Mother Is 'School Girl' at Alameda

Woman as Young as She Feels, She Says

ALAMEDA, Oct. 16.—Shakespeare, in his seven ages of man, fails to mention of a married "schoolboy with his shining morning face." Neither did he mention such a schoolgirl. But Alameda, nevertheless, has a married schoolgirl. It is Mrs. E. L. Soule, 2120 Encinal avenue, wife of a Utah rancher, who is spending four hours in school each day.

At 8:30 o'clock each morning Mrs. Soule and her 7-year-old son leave their home and start on a brisk walk to their schools. Each carries the necessary school books of the day's studies, the boy his elementary studies and his mother the books used by her at the Alameda high school.

Mrs. Soule lives on a 240-acre ranch near Delta, Utah. There is a lot of time to do things in on a ranch and Mrs. Soule hasn't got so much time to do that all of her time is taken up. She came here with other members of her family several months ago for a two-year stay. It was a short time after this that she learned of the courses for grown-ups at the high school.

She consulted Dr. George Thompson, the principal, and became Alameda's first mother-high-school-student. She is studying domestic science, manual training, art metal work and millinery.

"Wait until I learn all of these things," she said today. "I won't have time to be lonesome when I return to that Utah ranch. I intend to stay with my rejuvenation as a school girl until I return to Utah, two years from now, and I can learn a great deal in that time.

"No, it does not embarrass me to go through the school yard, the mother of a 7-year-old boy, and mingle with boys and girls who looked at, at first, askance. They're used to me now and we're quite chummy. Why, I join in their games and we gossip together and have a great many things in common.

"Surely, one is as young as one feels, and I'm a schoolgirl."

FRATERNITY MEN, TOO, WORK THEIR OWN WAY

BERKELEY, Oct. 16.—The mistaken idea that the college fraternity or club is an exclusive institution, the pleasures and opportunities of which are not available for the student who is poor in purse, has been given a body blow by statistics just compiled at the University of California by James Sutton, recorder of the Faculties, and Professor T. M. Putnam, Dean of the Lower Division.

The question, "Do you work your own way?" was asked this fall of 730 young men who make their college home in student fraternities or club houses. Of the 730, it was found that 355 are either wholly or partially self-supporting. Of those, 112 earn every cent that they spend.

Of the 1087 young men who reported that they live with their parents or relatives, 122 replied that they were wholly self-supporting, and of 748 young men who board elsewhere than with relatives or at fraternities or club houses, 199 replied that they were wholly self-supporting.

BERKELEY DATE TO PAY TAXES TO BE CHANGED

BERKELEY, Oct. 16.—Taxes in this city will be due the third Monday in October, instead of at an earlier date as heretofore, by virtue of an ordinance which has just been passed by the city council. It also makes the date of delinquency the first Monday in December, instead of the last Monday in November.

The ordinance was introduced for City Attorney Frank S. Stringham, and is designed to make the local tax periods conform with those of the state. No alteration is intended in the payment of the second installment, which is due the first Monday in January and delinquent the last Monday in April.

City Clerk Briggs has been authorized to issue a call for bids for equipment of the five new schools. The bids will be received up to November 12.

VISITORS TO SPEAK.

BERKELEY, Oct. 16.—At the Epworth Methodist church tomorrow the pulpit will be filled by visitors to the annual conference of the church, in session now in San Francisco. Dr. Fitzgerald Parker of Nashville, Tenn., general secretary of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will speak at 11 a. m. Dr. Parker's subject will be "A Letter of Jesus Christ."

Mrs. H. M. Hammell of Nashville, Tenn., one of the widely known leaders in the Sunday School world, will speak at 7:45. Her subject will be "The Challenge of the Child."

Mrs. Hammell has traveled throughout the world for about 20 years and with her husband, the late Dr. H. M. Hammell, has appeared upon the program of almost every national and international Sunday school convention of that time.

BEGIN HOSPITAL.

BERKELEY, Oct. 16.—Work was begun yesterday on the erection of the steel frame for the magnificent new University Hospital which the University of California is now building on Parnassus avenue, San Francisco, adjoining the building already occupied by the University of California Medical School. A fund of $615,000 was raised for this purpose by gifts of various friends of the university.

The Meddler

THE engagement announcements for the week have been of great interest to many friends of the engaged young people around the bay. Among the most important of these announcements was that made by Judge and Mrs. Frederick Henshaw of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Tay to Mr. Jack Edward Mighell.

The Henshaw family is very prominent, not only socially, but in many other estimable lines as well. The strong affection existing among the Henshaw brothers has always been the admiration of their friends—and old friends know that it is due to the wonderful home-training of their mother, the late Mrs. Sarah Henshaw. Not only in her home did she dignify womanhood and motherhood, but her wise influence extended far beyond it, and its radiance shown about the Ladies' Relief work and other charities of her day.

The women of our time owe much of their position today to brave women like Mrs. Sarah Henshaw, who were the pioneers on the journey, who thought for themselves; and the courage of their convictions was the beacon light which guided the eager, younger generation just behind them.

Oakland has always been very specially proud of the young generation, of which Judge Frederick Henshaw is a type. It has won out very fairly in many lines, and from our city has come men who are bravely writing chapters in the history of the state. And none of them has won out more fairly than Judge Frederick Henshaw, who fills an honored place on the bench of the Supreme Court. He has won his place fairly because of his splendid judicial mind, his keen intelligence and that sense of fairness and justice that we like to believe is the characteristic of the successful American man; that we know is the great gift of Fate to one of California's sons—to one of her most successful judges. While Judge Henshaw's home is down the Peninsula and his lifework takes him to an environment across the bay, Oakland still has a claim on him because of the early boyhood home here and of the college days lived out here; because of the many warm and true friendships centering around the Henshaw family. Charming Miss Eleanor Tay is the daughter of Mrs. Frederick Henshaw, who is one of the most attractive of the matrons of the social sets across the bay and down the peninsula. She is very clever indeed, with the good manners and rare personality, characteristic of the woman who is charming. Mrs. Henshaw has a wonderful complexion, and she is a perfect type of blonde beauty, which makes her look very much like the older sister of her pretty young daughter. Many Oakland people know Mrs. Henshaw very well indeed, having met her at the Henshaw homes on this side of the bay. She and Mrs. Tyler Henshaw make a wonderful picture when seen together—Mrs. Tyler Henshaw being such a beautiful brunette, and Mrs. Frederick Henshaw such a perfect type of blonde coloring.

Miss Eleanor Tay has been very beautifully educated, and she was one of the young debutantes of a season or two ago. She carried off many honors at the last Mardi Gras, which was her first large dance. Miss Tay is a general favorite, and there will be many complimentary affairs for this charming bride-elect, now that her engagement is announced. Her fiance, Jack Edward Mighell, is well known in social and business circles, and he is one of the young men bound to succeed in life, for already there is promise of a successful career. He is the son of Captain William Mighell, so well known on the Coast. The engagement is one of the happiest that has been announced in many a day, and many good wishes and congratulations are pouring in upon the young people. One hears that the bride-elect has already a fine collection of cups, as well as other engagement gifts.

In the smart sets of today, there is a tendency to send other things to brides-elect besides cups. To have too many of the latter is "an embarrassment of riches," and the young bride-elect welcomes gladly something for her trousseau, or for her new home.

There will be complimentary affairs for Miss Tay on this side of the bay, and the days of the late autumn and coming winter will be [illegible] for her [illegible] Mr. Jack Mighell.

MISS WETMORE TO BE AUTUMN "MOTIF."

Another bride who ries fair to be extremely entertained in these autumn days is Miss Philena Wetmore, whose engagement to Mr. Hubbard of Redlands was announced some days ag

Miss Wetmore also has a wide circle of friends around the bay, as the Wetmore family represents well-known pioneers of the Coast.

Years ago Mr. Clarence Wetmore had the vision of things to be, and near Livermore he began to develop the big vineyard interests, which have made his name known, not only in our State, but all over the Union, and in Europe among the vinegardists of France and Germany.

Mrs. Clarence Wetmore is one of the most accomplished clubwomen on this side of the bay, her beautiful voice being often heard in club circles, and giving pleasure to many of her friends.

Miss Philena Wetmore is the only daughter of the household, a lovely young girl with many friends. She was a very popular member of the Friday Night club, and she is the center of a circle of young girls, all very attractive and charming.

One hears much that is very complimentary to Mr. Hubbard, who comes from Redlands, that most charming town of Southern California. It is even more attractive than Riverside—and they—and not Los Angeles, fulfill one's idea of the Southland.

As Miss Wetmore's fiance, Mr. Hubbard will have many friends in Oakland, and he will no doubt have them on his account when the young people have an opportunity to know him well.

RECENT BETROTHAL LINKS OLD FAMILIES.

Another charming bride-elect of the autumn is Miss Edith Goodfellow, the daughter of Mrs. W. S. Goodfellow, whose engagement to Mr. De Fremery was announced last week.

Miss Goodfellow comes of that fine Goodfellow family which has represented and upheld such splendid standards always. No family has more true friends, and no group of people has more truly deserved them.

Miss Goodfellow is one of the younger girls who has set for herself fine ideals. She has had remarkably good training, as one would expect her to have under the guidance of her mother, Mrs. W. S. Goodfellow.

Mrs. Goodfellow is a much-loved member of the Cosmos club, being one of its charter members, and she has been for many years a supporter of the Ebell and Home clubs. Mrs. Goodfellow is very musical, having had in her very young school girl days an exceedingly fine musical education. She has been at the head of a large household and has been the mother of a family of children who bid fair to make a great success in life, which of course, is better than achieving success in the musical world.

Miss Edith Goodfellow represents the finest type of the American girl today, the girl who has had her development in a happy, sheltered home life. And so, the good wishes of her friends are happy ones too, and many gifts are finding their way this week to the Goodfellow home.

Of course, all the old-time families in Oakland know the De Fremerys and the von Lobensels, Mrs. von Lobensels having been Miss Virginia De Fremery, the only daughter of the household. Many long years ago the De Fremerys came to Oakland, and settled in Adeline street. Mr. De Fremery chose that location, because it reminded him of the Holland, with its wide spreading marshes, its flat surfaces, where his home had always been. So on the marsh, stretching away from Adeline street to the bay, he established a home very much on the old lines of the home in Holland.

Green be the memory of this loyal descendant of the old Dutch kingdom. For he saw to it, that not a shrub or tree was disturbed, and some of the fine old oaks that gave our city its name flourish on the grounds, that were formerly his domain. They are now the De Fremery playgrounds, and under their leafy branches the children of this later generation play happily, and the old family roof tree now shelters the settlement work, which marks the line of philanthropic advance.

And one of the De Fremery descendants is Mr Leon De Fremery, whose engagement to Miss Edith Goodfellow was announced a few days ago. He is a fine type of young American manhood, and to him are being extended many congratulations on his happy engagment to Miss Goodfellow.

YOUTH ACHIEVES IN AFFAIRS OF OAKLAND.

At one of the recent conventions held in Oakland, the men all seemed to be elderly and one of the leaders being asked his opinion of Oakland, looked wistfully at a group of well-known men of our city and said:

"Your successful men all seem so young. They have achieved something worth while early in life, and they have years in which to enjoy it all. Is it your climate in which you can work twice as long in the year as men work anywhere else, or is it because you know how to play. Everybody seems to plan for a play-time in California."

One of the hosts remarked that we had always been proud of our "young grandmothers," but nobody had paid very special attention to the "young grandfathers."

But the topic of the entire luncheon concerned itself with the young men who had succeeded, by hard work, by good standards, and most of them because of their own hard work, were interested in the altruistic efforts of the day. And among the names mentioned at the table at which were seated these notable guests were:

Wigginton Creed, William G. Henshaw, Tyler Henshaw, Robert Fitzgerald, Philip Clay, George Hammer, Howard Bray, Duncan McDuffie, Wallace Alexander, Joseph F. Carlston, P. E. Bowles, W. W. Garthwaite, Frank J. Woodward, Arthur Brown, Wickham Havens, Walter Leimert, H. C. Capwell, James K. Moffitt, John and Charles Smith and Jules Abrahamson.

The names of men who have succeeded in the professions is a long one. It adds dignity to our city. They are leading the way, and the great promise of the future lies in the fact that many of our young men are carrying on their traditions, and that Oakland is sending out a young army, that will fight the good fight for honor, prestige, and renown.

TEST FOR SOCIETY IN SEASONAL ACTIVITIES.

The Exposition has brought to our doors so many things worth while, that one can hardly keep up with the many dates of interest. "Improving one's mind," seems to be the slogan of the hour, and everyone seems to be improving her mind under the happiest possible conditions. For there are lectures on subjects of absorbing interest and social dates worth while, the latter planned for visitors from the East and abroad.

In the line of lectures, among the most important on this side of the bay are those now being given at the home of Mrs. Clinton Walker at Piedmont. They represent a series of three, given on Monday mornings at ten o'clock in the Walker home, which means a delightful environment for them. All interested in the subjects are welcome, and that is the truest hospitality in the world—for intellectual companionship is beyond price.

Mrs. Ford is altogether charming, and she made a very exquisite picture as she stood in the beautiful drawing-room, outlined against the quaint, picturesque window.

And her address was most fascinating, because she knew the subject so thoroughly. One's eyes were opened, quite as she hoped they might be. For she described the dawn of color appreciation which made possible the Impressionistic school.

One could see Monnet, the artist, as he painted that wonderful French garden, only to realize, that he had not caught on his canvas one single color that there was in the garden. So he tried all over again, and when he really painted the color that he saw, he faced a furious Parisian public.

But the pictures at the Exposition took on an added interest, because Mrs. Ford had trained the eyes of her hearers, and they could understand the message the artists gave.

On next Monday, Mrs. Ford's subject will be "The Futurist and Cubist Schools (France and Hungary)," and this is a subject in which one truly requires guidance, and from one competent to give it.

"The Futurista Art of Italy," will be considered.

Among the well-known women at the lecture were: Mrs. Isaac L. Requa, Mrs. Mark L. Requa, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Leon Clark, Mrs. Frank K. Mott, Mrs. Mygatt, Mrs. William E. Sharon, Mrs. Minor Goodall, Mrs. George Greenwood, Mrs. Arthur D. Thomson, Miss Matilda Brown, Mrs. Robert Hill, Mrs. Frank C. Havens, Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown, Mrs Harry Farr, Mrs. Frederick Cutting, Mrs. Sam Bell Wakefield, Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith, Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld, Miss Carrie Nicholson, Mrs. George Hammer, Mrs. A. A. Moore, Jr., Miss Ethel Valentine, Mrs. John F. Conners, Mrs George Hammer Miss Alison Stone, Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, Miss Mona Crellin, Mrs. Harry Maxwell, Madame Ah Kuli Khan, Mrs. Granville Abbott, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. A. B. Nye.

NOTABLE GATHERING OF CHURCH WOMEN.

Among the interesting conventions of the Exposition year is the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Pacific Branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary society at the First Methodist Episcopal church of Oakland. Many notable women are being entertained by Oakland hostesses. Mrs. Charlotte Playter of Piedmont has Mrs. William Fraser McDowell of Chicago as her guest; Mrs Clayton Walker has Miss Florence Hooper of Baltimore and Mrs. L. M. Fiery of Pomona; Mrs Robert Stratton is entertaining Mrs. Lucie Harrison and Mrs. S. F. Johnson of Pasadena; Mrs. Charles Rowe has with her Mrs. Belle Anderson and Mrs. M. C. Mendenhall of San Pedro, Miss Alma Galbraith has her sister, Mrs. F. J. Masters, and Mrs. Z. L. Parmalee of Pasadena as her guests; Mrs. C. W. Kinsey is entertaining Mrs. Phoebe Searles and Mrs. J. W. Pierce, of San Jose; Mrs. J. J. Mayer has Mrs. J. R. Umstead and Mrs. Wentworth of Los Angeles with her. Saturday will be the Exposition day of the convention.

POPULARITY MAKES LECTURER NOMAD.

Among the most interesting lecturers in the great Palace of Education across the bay is Dr. Julia Seton of New York, one of the best known women physicians of that city. Dr. Seton has been lecturing in the Palace of Education, but so large have been her audiences, that the lectures will hereafter take place in the ballroom of the California building.

Mrs. Frank C. Havens will have Dr. Seton as her guest on the afternoon of Saturday, October 30, and it is hoped that she may address the many friends of Mrs. Havens, who will be present at Wildwood on that afternoon.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Mrs. Edward Engs has been one of the most indefatigable workers for the success of the Baby Hospital this evening. She is one of the leaders of the Piedmont set and is the sister of Mrs. Wickham Havens. She is a very charming woman, with an interesting personality.

PREPARE PLANS FOR "WOMAN'S BOARD DAY."

A large meeting was held yesterday in the California building by the members of the Women's Auxiliary, P. P. I. E., to prepare plans for "Woman's Board Day" at the Exposition. The day is set for October 29 and the plans formulated are most interesting.

Mrs. A. C. Posey is arranging the details of the very important luncheon to be given in honor of Lady Aberdeen, who has planned to be on the coast early in November. The luncheon is to be given in the ballroom of the Oakland, and guests to the capacity of this large assembly hall will be entertained. There will probably be about 400 guests at the luncheon.

The Woman's Board has sent out invitations for a luncheon on Thursday, October 21, in the board room of the California building. The complimented guest will be Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, who is accompanying her husband to the coast, and who will be here next week.

LADY ABERDEEN TO BE GUEST OF MILLIKENS.

During their stay in California Lord and Lady Aberdeen will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Milliken of this city. In Scotland they are great friends of Mr. Milliken's father, who has written to his son concerning them.

The Millikens will represent Oakland's hospitable spirit in a happy and charming fashion, and they will add their share to the California effort for the entertainment of the distinguished guests.

WILL TELL OF RELIEF WORK IN BELGIUM.

One of the most important meetings of the entire year will be held next Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Mark Lawrence Requa, on Mountain avenue, Piedmont. The meeting is scheduled for 10:30, and it is announced that Mrs. Herbert C. Hoover will speak on Belgium.

Many Californians have reflected honor on our state, but in the future, when the annals of the Great War shall have been written, no names will shine with greater lustre on the pages of history than those of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover. They are Stanford graduates and loyal Californians. Mr. Hoover was very successful in his mining ventures, and they have a beautiful home in the suburbs of London, as well as one in California. When the war broke out they were abroad, and immediately they were in the front rank of those who planned relief work. Mrs Hoover aided the panic-stricken Americans, and was foremost in organizing hospital work on the continents. And the poor, pathetic, pitiful Belgians went to both their hearts.

Mrs. Hoover came to California and made an appeal for the Belgians, which was answered by Mrs. Mark Requa and her friends. And the result was a great shipload of warm clothes, of beans, of flour and of condensed milk for the babies of Belgium. And the finest sight the harbor has known was that great ship sailing out of the Golden Gate on its way to the women of Belgium. And BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 16.—A large portion of the trousseau of Mrs. Galt, President Wilson's fiancee, is being made in Baltimore. Two afternoon frocks, a going-away suit, and several separate blouses, destined for the all-important outfit of the future Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, have already been sent to Washington from a fashionable shop on Lexington street. The frocks and suit were ordered last Saturday and Monday, on which days two or three friends, who are helping Mrs. Galt in the selection of her trousseau, motored over to Baltimore for the shopping. It was reported Mrs. Galt accompanied them on one of the trips, but that report was not verified.

The suit, which is thought to be the one which Mrs. Galt intends to wear on her wedding trip, is a striking model in dull green duvetyn, with chinchin collars and cuffs of beaver. The top of the coat is cut to fit the figure rather closely. There is a flare, measuring four yards and a half, about the bottom of the coat, edged with a wide band of beaver. The coat buttons straight down the front, and is worn with a very simple, slightly flared, skirt.

The prettier of two afternoon frocks which Baltimore is contributing to Mrs. Galt's trousseau is a model in crepe georgette and taffeta of the same rich, dull green as the suit. The model shows a strong Chinese influence. The skirt has five narrow flounces of crepe georgette, banded in taffeta, finely pleated and mounted on a crepe underskirt. There is an under bodice of taffeta, flowered in dull rose, over which falls a Chinese sleeveless jacket of crepe georgette, exquisitely embroidered in self-colored beads.

"PANTS IS PANTS," SAYS POLICEMAN

SAN MATEO, Oct. 16.—Where a woman's riding habit ends and masculine attire begins is an issue that Miss Eva McComb, pretty daughter of Alden McComb, chief of police of San Mateo, is trying to settle with the Burlingame authorities.

Miss McComb was questioned and sent to her home in a taxicab Wednesday night by Policeman James Madden because, according to the officer, she was masquerading in a man's suit.

Miss McComb indignantly takes exception to the policeman's conclusions.

"He was mistaken," she said yesterday. "I was planning to go riding and was wearing my riding habit. Miss Eleanor Sears was not disturbed when she did her shopping in Burlingame while dressed in her riding outfit."

Policeman Madden says that he is certain that the young woman did not wear boots.

"I know nothing about the cut or pattern of the breeches," says Madden, "but no riding outfit is complete without riding boots and I am sure Miss McComb did not have boots."

U. S. WOMAN EXECUTED AS SPY

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The official press bureau has made the following announcement:

"The United States Ambassador has informed the foreign office that Miss Edith Cavell, lately head of the nurses' school at Brussels, has been executed by the German authorities. It is understood that Miss Cavell was charged with harboring fugitive soldiers from the lines of the allies and assisting them to escape. There was no charge of espionage against her."

LAW'S HAND BOLTS SANTA ROSA WEDDING

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 16.—Everett Huskey of St. Louis, Mo., was arrested yesterday as a deserter from Company F, United States Engineering Corps, Vancouver Barracks, Wash., just as he was being married to Miss Annabell Forgett, pretty daughter of the late Councilman Fred Forgett. The tears and protestations of the bride did not avail. The young couple met while the engineers were in camp here this summer. Huskey is in the county jail and his bride is in tears. It is said the marriage did not meet with the approval of the bride's mother.

Spurr examined the note and admitted that his signature was attached. He had signed it as president of the First National Bank of Moundsville, West Virginia.

Resignation of Dr. J. C. Branner Made Effective January 1.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 16.—Announcement was made at Stanford University yesterday that Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur will become president of the institution January 1, succeeding Dr. John Caspar Branner. The appointment was made at a meeting of the board of directors Thursday.

President Branner presented his resignation to the board October 12. He will be retired under the provisions of the Carnegie pension fund and will continue all research work in geology at Stanford University. On accepting the appointment in 1913 on the retirement of Dr. David Starr Jordan, Dr. Branner stipulated that he be permitted to relinquish the post at the end of two years.

Dr. Wilbur, dean of the Stanford Medical School, formerly Cooper Medical College of San Francisco, is the youngest of the three presidents of Stanford University. He was born in Boonesville, Ia., April 13, 1875. He received his A. B. degree at Stanford in 1896 and his master's degree the following year. In 1899 he was given the degree of doctor of medicine at Cooper Medical College.

Wilbur was married to Miss Margaret May Blake of San Francisco while a medical student in 1898. There are five children.

From 1902 to 1904 Dr. Wilbur studied in Germany and England. In 1911 he was made dean of the medical school. In 1911 and 1912 he served as president of the American Academy of Medicine. He is a prominent member of several San Francisco clubs.

Dr. Wilbur decided upon a career in medicine while in the university, and before his graduation he was made an instructor in the physiology department. He became a lecturer in Cooper Medical College in 1899, an assistant professor in 1900 and in 1909 he was appointed as a professor. His home is in Palo Alto.

Mrs. Wilbur is a Stanford graduate of the year 1897.

President Branner, on his retirement at the end of the year, will resume his former duties as head of the geology department.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE LATE BUTTERFLIES.

Copyright, 1915, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis.)

The trees in the wood were covered with leaves of golden brown, purple, red and orange. They were very beautiful. Jack Frost, the old gentleman who helps King Winter, had touched the leaves of the trees with his icicle fingers, and had turned them from beautiful green, into more beautiful colors.

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, as he walked through the wood, looked up at the trees and thought he had never, in all his life, seen such a beautiful sight.

"It just makes me love everybody," said Uncle Wiggily, as he hopped along, leaning on his red, white and blue striped barber pole rheumatism cane which Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, his muskrat lady housekeeper, had gnawed for him out of a cornstalk. "Yes, the trees are very beautiful."

For this was October, you see, and soon would be winter and cold weather. And it is the cold that turns the leaves such pretty colors.

As Uncle Wiggily hopped along through the wood, he kicked, with his hind feet, the leaves on the ground. Those leaves were pretty, long—golden brown, yellow, purple, deep violet and red.

"The leaves on the ground are so beautiful that I just can't bear to step on them," said Uncle Wiggily. But he could not very well help doing it, though he trod as gently as he could.

On and on went the rabbit gentleman, on and on through the beautiful wood, and pretty soon he sat down to rest on a log near a little pond where, in the early spring and summer, Bully and Boly No-Tail, the two frog boys, used to go in swimming.

And, as the old rabbit gentleman sat there, all at once he heard a sad sort of little voice saying:

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear! Oh, dear!"

"That sounds like trouble," thought Uncle Wiggily. And whenever he thought of trouble he also thought of the fuzzy fox and the skillery-scalery alligator, with the lumps on his tail.

"I hope it isn't either of them," said the old gentleman rabbit, as he opened his ears as wide as an oven door when the pies have been baked; for Uncle Wiggily wanted to listen the very best he could.

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" he heard again.

"That doesn't sound like the skillery-scalery alligator, nor yet the fuzzy fox," said Mr. Longears. "I guess it must be some of my friends in trouble. Who are you? What is the matter? May I have the extreme pleasure of helping you?" asked the rabbit gentleman, speaking politely, as he nearly always did.

"Help me—help us—no, I don't believe any one can help us," the sad voice said. "Oh, we are in such trouble!"

"Please tell me who you are, and what the trouble is!" begged Uncle Wiggily. "Perhaps I can help you."

Then, all at once, it seemed as if some of the purple, red, golden and brown leaves lifted themselves up from the ground in front of the log on which sat Uncle Wiggily. The leaves seemed to flutter up in the air, though no wind was blowing.

"This is strange," said the rabbit gentleman, but as he spoke, he saw that they were not leaves fluttering around him, but butterflies.

Yes, they were butterflies—butterflies with wings of golden brown, of purple, of red and violet.

"Why—why!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I thought you were leaves—leaves like the other colored ones that have fluttered to the ground from the trees.

"No, we are late butterflies," was what one of the beautiful creatures said. "And we are sad because we are late. All our friends have flown away to the lovely and warm Southland but we, foolish butterflies that we are, stayed up here too late. Now the cold winter is coming and we shall freeze and die. Even now it is too cold for us to fly, and that is why we had to rest on the ground, like the leaves.

"In the middle of the day, when the sun is warm, we can fly a little way, but the mornings and nights are so cold that it makes our wings stiff, and we have to drop to the ground. We never can fly down to our beloved Southland and so we must die. That is why we are all so sad."

"Well," said Uncle Wiggily, in his most jolly and cheerful voice, "don't be sad any longer. I will take care of you. I have plenty of room in my hollow stump bungalow. You can all come there and spend the winter. In the warm summer you can fly out again."

"Oh, but we couldn't think of putting you to all that trouble," said the largest butterfly, with purple wings.

"It would be no trouble—only a pleasure," said the rabbit gentleman with a polite bow. "You are all so beautiful that I love you."

"That is most lovely of you," said the purple butterfly. "Then we will be sad no longer. We will go to your hollow stump bungalow, Uncle Wiggily. You see, we are not like most butterflies, who live only one summer. We live longer than that—that is, we can live longer if we do not freeze."

"Well, do not fret, you shall not freeze," spoke the rabbit gentleman. "Come, now, dry your tears, let up your wings and fly with me. I wish I could fly with you, but I have to walk along. However, you can follow me in the air over my head."

"Yes," said the purple butterfly, "we will do that."

So all the late butterflies fluttered their wings and rose in the air, looking like the purple, golden and red leaves blown by the wind. They flew along over the rabbit gentleman's head.

Uncle Wiggily was nearly at his hollow stump bungalow, when, all at once, after him came sneaking the fuzzy fox.

"This is the time I'll catch him," said the fox softly to himself. "He has his back toward me, and he can't see me. I'll creep up behind him and jump on him. Then, at last, I shall have caught Uncle Wiggily."

The fox was just going to do this, and Uncle Wiggily knew nothing about it, but the purple butterfly saw what the fox was going to do.

"Quick, brothers—sisters!" sang the purple butterfly. "Flutter down and cover up dear Uncle Wiggily as though we were the leaves from the trees. Cover him all up so the fox can't see him."

Down fluttered the golden, brown, the purple and red butterflies, covering Uncle Wiggily as though he were under a pile of autumn leaves. Even his ears were covered.

The fox could not see the rabbit gentleman, even though he looked through his spectacles, which he did not have with him.

"Why, where in the world did that rabbit go?" the puzzled fox asked himself. "He was here a second ago, but now he is gone. I can see only the leaves on the ground. Oh, this must be some fairy trick! I had better run away from here or I may be turned into a lollypop."

So the fox ran away, not hurting Uncle Wiggily in the least, and then the butterflies, which the fox thought were leaves covering the rabbit, rose in the air again and flew on with Mr. Longears to his hollow stump bungalow, where they lived in the cold winter.

So this teaches us that beautiful things may be useful, too, and if the milkman doesn't take our cat away to use for a piano dusting brush I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily going hunting.

everything on the great ship reached the starving people of that ill-fated country. But little did we all dream then how sorely it was needed, nor how bitter would be the suffering, nor how terrible would be the struggle.

No man in all Europe is more respected today than Herbert Hoover. He holds the confidence of all, and anything sent to Mr. Hoover reaches its destination.

Mrs. Hoover is a California woman whom many of us know. She comes to us from London and from Belgium, and she brings us the latest word, the last bitter cry from these helpless Belgian women in the heart of the greatest tragedy the world has ever known. So it is with deepest sympathy and with absorbing interest that many women will assemble on next Thursday in Mrs. Requa's home. For Mrs. Hoover brings a message to the American women—one of the greatest messages in history.

COMINGS AND GOINGS OF SOCIETY PEOPLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, who went to Portland some time ago, have gone from there East, business matters calling Mr. Henshaw to New York. On the way East they stopped over at Salt Lake, and they spent some days at the Blackstone in Chicago. They are now in New York, and they expect to return to California the latter part of the month.

Judge and Mrs. Frederick Henshaw recently returned from the Orient, having taken the trip there for the benefit of Judge Henshaw's health. He has returned greatly improved, ready to take up again his judicial duties.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hinckley Taylor are still in the East, where they are enjoying very delightful autumn days. They have spent a great deal of time in yachting, for Mr. Benedict, who is Mr. Taylor's uncle, owns a splendid yacht named "The Corsair." The Taylors will return to their Piedmont home the latter part of the month.

Mrs. Louis Titus and her little son have returned from the East and are spending the autumn months in San Francisco, where they are the guests of Mrs. Titus' mother.

Mrs. Anthony Hubbard and Miss Mabel Hubbard are at the Palace, having come from their home in Redlands for a visit to the Exposition. Miss Hubbard was a guest of honor this week at a theater party and supper given by Miss Marian Fillius. Miss Hubbard is a sister of Herbert Hubbard, whose engagement to Miss Philena Wetmore was announced last week.

Mrs. Peter Martin, after a stay of some weeks in San Francisco with Mrs. Eleanor Martin, has gone to New York to spend the late autumn and early winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oelrichs. She will also visit her sister, Mrs. Leonard Thomas, the beautiful young matron, who is one of the society leaders of Newport, New York and Philadelphia. She has a magnificent home in the latter city. Mrs. Thomas is exceedingly handsome, tall and statuesque, and of the brunette type of beauty. She is to lead the big suffragist parade in New York, as "The Queen of the Junos," and in her division, which heads the parade, there are to be 338 "Junos"—tall, handsome women. Mrs. Thomas has never marched before for "the cause," and she says it is more of an ordeal than any one can realize. But, she adds, she would be ashamed to believe in merely a passive fashion. We have stately women in our own smart set, and notable among them are Mrs. William Thornton White, Mrs. Harry Knowles and Mrs. Duncan McDuffie.

SISTERS OF HOLY NAME TO RECEIVE.

The Sisters of the Holy Name of the Convent by Lake Merritt have sent out cards for a reception for next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The guest of honor will be Miss Ina Coolbrith, poet laureate of California, who will be presented by Charles Phillips.

Many of the alumnae of the convent will be in attendance, and many prominent women from both sides of the bay will be in attendance at this notable reception.

WOMEN UNITE TO AID DEPENDENT GIRLS.

Among the many conferences of the year none have been more successful than the one held this week at the Oakland for the consideration of dependent girls. It was a fine sight to see a ballroom full of women, all animated by a spirit of kindness towards other women who needed their help.

On Wednesday afternoon the session was presided over in a most admirable way by Dr. Susan Fenton, the well-known physician of this city. Perhaps there is no more busy woman in Oakland than Dr. Fenton but she has found time to aid the dependent girl and to lend an intelligent moral support to that uplift work which dignifies our city.

Dr. Fenton presided with a charm of manner of which the Oakland women were very proud, as in the audience were many guests from all over the world.

The addresses were made by women from leading cities of the Union. Dr. Fenton and Miss Conners represented the cities around the bay.

Late in the afternoon there was a very delightful informal reception under the direction of Mrs. William E. Sharon. She was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown, Mrs. A. D. Thomson, Mrs. A. C. Posey, the Misses Russan, Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain, Mrs. J. B. Richardson, Miss Sarah Horton and Dr. Sutherland. It was a reception greatly enjoyed by the Eastern visitors, who were made welcome in a most cordial fashion.

JOAQUIN MILLER CLUB PLANS "DAY" AT FAIR.

Yet another notable day is planned for the Exposition, and this time it is to be under the direction of the Joaquin Miller Club of East Oakland, of which Dr. Minora Kibbe has been for so long the much loved and very efficient president.

With the members of her club she is planning a Joaquin Miller Day, to be given in November, in Festival Hall. There is to be a very elaborate program. The chairman of the day, George Wharton James, will be introduced by Dr. Kibbe. Poems by Joaquin Miller will be read by that successful orator, Fred Emerson Brooks, and songs will be sung. There will be a tableaux, "God's Garden," given from the poem of that name. Both Mrs. Miller and Juanita Miller will take part in the program.

The vice-chairmen of the day will be President Wheeler, Dr. David Starr Jordan, Miss Ina Coolbrith, Dr. Edward Robeson Taylor, Mr. W. C. Morrow, Mr. John F. Conners, Edward Markham, Professor William Armes, Miss Mollie Conners, Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, Mrs. Edwin Owen, Mrs. George Harrison, Miss Mary Lambert. Other vice-chairmen will be added, who will aid in making the day the success it ought to be.

Eastern guests in large numbers wish to visit Joaquin Miller's home, and it is specially fitting that this day at the Fair should be given under the auspices of the Joaquin Miller Club.

MRS. HOOVER TO DEPART.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, who was to have been the guest of Mrs. Mark Requa next week, has been called to Europe and will leave on Monday for New York, whence she will sail for London to meet her husband. Mrs. Hoover, who has been entertained by Miss Ethel Moore, Mrs. George McNear and other friends on this side of the bay, will not return to America until next spring. She was to have given a lecture on Belgium at the Requa residence in Piedmont on Thursday, which is of course canceled.

THE CROCKER BALL.

The magnificent new ballroom at New Place, the William H. Crocker home in Hillsborough, was the scene of a brilliant ball last evening when Miss Helen Crocker, second daughter of the household, made her debut. The room is finished in travertine, that is, like delicately tinted marble. Three sides of the room are of travertine and on the fourth are beautifully wrought doors that open to a terrace of the garden. The ceiling of the room is covered with mural paintings in soft coloring.

Last evening it was filled with 300 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Crocker, who received in the drawing room with their daughters, Miss Helen and Miss Ethel Crocker, standing among the flowers sent to the debutante. Mrs. Crocker was very handsome in orchid shaded georgette crepe embossed with velvet. Miss Ethel Crocker wore embroidered yellow chiffon made in the graceful moyen age fashion. Miss Helen, who is strikingly like her cousin, Mrs. Arno Dosch of New York when Mrs. Dosch made her debut as Miss Elsie Sperry a number of years ago, was in white tulle embroidered in silver with a straight full skirt.

Among the guests well known on this side of the bay were Mr. and Mrs. William B. Pringle, who, with Dr. and Mrs. George Lyman (Dorothy Van Sicklen), were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Davis preceding the ball. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Miller gave a dinner for Miss Leslie Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Chamberlain, Miss Amy Brewer, Messrs. Beverly Tucker and Frederick Tillman.

Miss Elimm McNear was among dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clarence Breedon, who entertained also Miss Dorothy Baker, Miss Anne Peters, Miss Kate Crocker, Miss Gertrude Kavanaugh, Messrs. Andrew Carrigan, Clinton Jones, Livingston Baker, Frederick Beaver, Dr. George Willicott and Lieutenant Commander Clark Woodward.

Mr. and Mrs. Crocker gave a dinner at the Burlingame Club before the ball. Their guests were Miss Gertrude Hopkins, Miss Genevieve Rothin, Miss Norma and Miss Harriet Mack, Miss Margaret Nichols, Miss Ruth Zeile, Miss Ethel and Miss Helen Nichols, Douglas MacDonald, Stanford Gwin, Sherwood Chapman, Miss Rucker, Joseph Moody, Frederick Van Sicklen of Alameda and Walter Hush of Oakland.

Miss Margaret Nichols received much merry chaffing for having captured two of the souvenirs in the bridal cake at the wedding in Piedmont of Miss Cora Williams and Mr. Herrien Anderson in Berkeley the preceding evening. Miss Nichols cut the bachelor's button and to offset its significance found also the ring in her share of cake.

PROTECTION AGAINST UNDER-CONSUMPTION

Mr. Theodore N. Vail invents a new formula for the economic situation in the United States. "The great trouble we are facing is not over-production, but is under-consumption," he says. By this he means we are facing the evil of under-consumption of American products brought about by a tariff schedule so low as to permit the importation of European products to the disadvantage of our own industries.

Mr. Vail's statement is entirely free of "theorizing." He has in mind the fact that there are hundreds of idle factories and millions of idle persons in the United States at the present time; that some millions more are only temporarily employed in the production of war material. He has in mind also the fact that the peaceful industrial pursuits of Great Britain and Europe are practically at a standstill and that foreign imports have fallen to an extraordinarily low mark. This abnormal condition that keeps out foreign imports is destined to be shortlived. When peace ensues the country will be deluged with the products of Europe, brought in at a cost far below that which they may be duplicated in the United States.

The one political party that has traditionally closed its eyes to all reasoning and proofs of the necessity of a protective tariff is now, through its leaders, admitting the dangers that confront American industry when peace is re-established.

There is one other point that Mr. Vail dwells on. It is that our immigration laws permit the free importation of healthy, able-bodied European men and women. Their addition to the unemployed class in this country aggravates the evil of under-consumption. They increase the native ranks of consumers of imported products. The keeping out of immigrants would not add materially to the betterment of conditions. If there is a great lack of employment, the immigrant is likely to find work and to live with less discomfort than the citizen who has been here a number of years and has got accustomed to our expensive ways.

The situation is fraught with danger—grave danger, as Mr. Vail observes. But there is a way of avoiding it. The remedy reposes in frank and effective protection of American products against imports. There is one effective and sensible plan of protection. That reposes in a schedule of revenue duties sufficiently high to offset the difference between the cost of production in Europe and in America. If protection is afforded American constructive enterprises, there will be available an abundance of new capital for new industries: the old ones will be revived: there will be plenty of work for all and the output of American industry will be kept nicely balanced to American consumption. The surplus—and there will be a surplus in certain special products—will make up our export trade, which, if left free of silly, thoughtless, destructive legislation, will pursue a natural, permanent development.

Under-consumption increases or decreases in exact ratio to imports. Every other nation of the earth has discovered this simple economic law and has taken steps to adjust local conditions accordingly. No nation can long remain prosperous who neglects it. The United States has provided against it at different intervals in its history and these intervals have been uniformly prosperous. In the tariff law enacted by the last session of Congress it was utterly ignored. The war has prevented us paying the full penalty earlier: but the penalty is as certain to fall upon us as we neglect to provide protection for domestic industry.

The company which operates a street car system at Bakersfield is fighting the jitneys with their own weapons. If the "jit" is to be a factor in future transportation the Bakersfield company proposes to be in on the deal. Therefore it has equipped a fleet of jitneys and is operating them under the transfer system in connection with its own cars. There is a hint here for the Oakland street car people, and we can conceive that it might be worked out to the distinct advantage of Oakland as a retail and mercantile center. It has long been complained that it is easier both at point of time and convenience to reach San Francisco from certain of our East Bay towns than to come to Oakland. Particularly shoppers in Berkeley are always saying that, while they can do quite as well or better at the point of price in Oakland, they prefer to go to San Francisco in forty minutes than to Oakland in fifty. We wonder if the tide of this kind of travel may not be turned Oaklandward if the street car people, who thus far have seemed unable to establish an express service over their tracks, were to put on a fleet of motor buses making the run from the center of Berkeley to the center of Oakland in automobile time—say twenty to twenty-five minutes. And might not this kind of enterprise on the part of the street car people put the rickety jitneys, with their unpleasant personal contacts and their distinct menace to life and limb, out of business?

PARTISANSHIP OR NON-PARTISANSHIP

Which shall it be, a government of principles, thought out and enforced by the will of the people through parties or a government of policies proposed and carried on by individuals? This is the big and vital question that the electors of this State are called upon to decide at a special election to be held on Tuesday October 26, and it is the greatest and most important question that can be submitted to any people for their decision. A general indifference to political questions, a lack of information on the subject and the possibility of many being misled by sophistic denunciation and fine declamation delivered in the name of reform, make the result uncertain. Every student of the history of government knows that all of the great political rights secured to man which have made for the betterment of civilization and for human advancement, have been forced from sovereigns through the organization of parties.

"Among ancient nations," says Shouler, the historian, "the Athenian and Roman republics more especially, flourished political parties, whose best achievement was to advance the condition of the common people and give them a share in honors and advantages which were at first absorbed by a privileged class."

The political history of England and France recites on every page the struggle made by the common people through their party organizations for recognition and for the right to help make the laws under which they lived. Political parties were early formed in the colonies and through their influence was gradually worked out our present system of government—its great Constitution which proclaims forever the equality of man and his right to govern himself. Without party organization this great work could not have been accomplished. Without party organization it could not have continued.

DR. WILBUR.

Dr. Wilbur, whose election to the Presidency of Stanford University is just announced, is very much of a man, very much of a scholar, very much of an administrator. His character is a demonstrated one—as a student, as a scientist, as the head of a great school. He is comparatively young, being just forty, is a man of temperament, of poise, of force. His selection is the outcome of a long search, although his was in fact the very first name considered. We regard it as a special advantage that Dr. Wilbur is a Californian. While it is true that there is no geography in scholarship, yet the fact remains that in scholarship, as in other things, sympathies and propensities are of the highest value. It would be a mistake to select a Californian simply because he is a Californian. But given the general qualities proper in the presidency of a great school, it is a very considerable advantage when these are found in conjunction with understandings and propensities in a sense local. It has long been a fact in our higher educational system that it has been manned to a very considerable extent by professors working in one sphere for reputation and standing in another. It will mean a good deal to Stanford to have a president whose home, whose heart and whose fortunes are essentially Californian.

A very hard fate is that of "H. O.," the San Francisco sailor from whose system neither all the doctors of San Francisco nor all the professors of Berkeley, after seven years' effort, have been able to eliminate the germs of typhoid fever. H. O., himself in perfect health, carries disease to whomever he approaches. Twenty-seven sailors on a lumber schooner in which H. O. shipped as a sailor, became infected with typhoid within a period of four years, and four of them died. Many devices have been tried to relieve H. O. of this fearful curse, but as yet no one of them has had the least beneficial effect. At present H. O. is practically confined—by his own wish—to the infectious ward of a San Francisco hospital: and there or in some complete retirement he must remain, or else become a veritable scourge. If we may believe the findings of the scientists, two out of every hundred typhoid patients become either temporarily or permanently what is known as germ carriers, not always in the terrible measure this infliction has fallen upon H. O., but in greater or less degree.

Summing up the expenditures and income of the British nation, Sir George Paish, the famous economist and statistician, says that if a desirable balance is maintained during the next year the English people must save $2,000,000,000 out of their income of $150,000,000,000. The great mass of the people, he says, should save 10 per cent additional and the more wealthy 20 or 25 per cent. The alternative to a period of such rigid economy is very dark, as Sir George sees it. "Will it be possible to borrow $15,000,000,000 to adjust our trade balance," he says. "I think it is impossible. If we go on spending money as we are now we shall see another break in American exchange, accompanied by a break in Canadian, Argentine, Australian and Indian exchanges. This probably would mean the suspension of specie payments and we should have to tell the world we are unable to pay our debts."

At San Mateo yesterday a young woman, walking about the streets in what she believed to be a riding costume, was arrested by a policeman for masquerading in men's clothes. She pleaded her rights as a sportswoman, but the decision went against her, because she did not happen to be wearing boots. Under this judgment boots appear to be the last decisive factor in the dividing line between the clothes of men and women. This may account for a recent decree of fashion which we nearly said tops off the latest feminine costume with Russian boots.

Dr. "Newo Newi New" being engaged upon important matters with the Federal authorities, the "World's Newthot Congress day," which the exposition management had scheduled for December 2, has been canceled.

-:- War Destroys Capital, Says U. C. Economist -:-

BERKELEY, Oct. 16.—Flat contradiction of the thesis that the nations of Europe will come out of the present war with practically undiminished capital and with the addition of a potential capital representing the dead was made today by Prof. Carl C. Plehn of the department of economics in the University of California, in commenting on the address recently made before the Technology Club by Arthur D. Marsh of the Economic World, published in The Tribune yesterday. Marsh declared that the true cost of wars is not economic in a general sense.

"It seems to me that the fallacy of this argument is perfectly obvious," said Professor Plehn. "Its refutation is contained in the proverbial saying. One cannot eat one's cake and have it. Wealth has been actually destroyed, and in its place are only promises to pay—burdens of obligation upon succeeding generations. The time which will be taken in the replacement of the vanished capital is just so much time taken from the productive progress of the world.

"There is no kind of legerdemain that will create something out of nothing; that will transform actual loss into potential credit. All destruction must be made good before we can continue with our interrupted duties. Postponement of the payment will not resuscitate the impaired and ruined values.

"I am reminded of an illustration used by Bastiat, the French economist. A boy has flung a stone and broken a window. 'Oh, well,' it said, 'there is no harm done. It will make work for the glazier.' 'Stay,' says Bastiat. 'Let us examine this more closely. If the time of the glazier was not taken to replace this glass, he would spend this time in making another glass, and the world would have two panes of glass instead of one. Moreover, the shilling which the boy must pay to the glazier might have been used to buy himself a pair of stockings. There has been an irreparable loss of value.'

"No juggling with credits will restore destroyed values. The destruction of property in the San Francisco fire, for example, was not made good by the insurance policies; it can be replaced only by thrift. And thrift of this kind means the robbing of Peter to pay Paul—the payment of the past out of the funds of the future. There is no other way out, short of repudiation of the debt.

"Not only has property been destroyed in the present war in unparalleled quantity, and immense masses of material in the shape of munitions converted into smoke, but there has been a diversion of labor from the daily tasks of production. Men have been taken from the plough, the factory and the mine to devote their time to destruction. This is an actual loss in wasted labor. For fourteen months millions of men have stopped their occupations to spend their time in marching and firing guns. In the meantime the consumption of products goes on as rapidly as before with a net loss as the result.

"The world is the poorer for every day that this conflict goes on. Poorer by the destruction of property, poorer by the loss of time that would have been spent in productive labor, poorer by the debt which hangs over the future.

LOOK ALOFT, FRIEND!

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Two men, just returned from Africa, met at a London club. Acquaintance revealed the fact that one had been a lion hunter and the other a missionary. Said the sportsman to the [illegible]:

"It may seem strange to you, friend, that on my travels in Africa I do not remember [illegible] missionaries."

"Well," replied the religious gentleman, "you were looking for missionaries. I was there many years and I never saw a one. When you are looking for, don't you know."

GIVES MEDICAL VIEW OF MILITARY TRAINING

Dr. Harlow Brooks Strongly Favors Compulsory Course for Youth.

Compulsory military training of the youth of the United States is distinctly desirable from the point of view of the medical profession, according to Dr. Harlow Brooks of New York. Dr. Brooks discusses the possibility of such training in the September issue of American Medicine and finds much in the example of Switzerland to enlighten this country.

Taking for granted that the period of training should be brief and that Annapolis and West Point can be depended upon for professional soldiers and sailors, Dr. Brooks points out that if the thing is worth doing at all it is worth doing well, and that military instruction should be conducted by military authorities and not left to the casual ways of most schools and colleges. He notes, however, that this country possesses a few excellent military schools.

"In addition to the personal physical advantages to be derived by each young citizen from a six months' training, one must also consider as a definite asset the improved appearance which results from a proper military carriage and 'get up,'" Dr. Brooks says. "Very much more than these are the lessons in hygiene which are inculcated as a part of such a training.

"Six months of healthy outdoor life during the formative period of any young man's life is a definite life insurance investment, and at the same time much knowledge of very real value is furnished in preparation for any subsequent vocation. Such a service could bring only personal benefit; from the viewpoint of the physician such a service would become of incalculable value, and from this selfish standpoint alone it is entitled to the most hearty indorsement of the entire medical profession."

AT THE LOOM OF LIFE.

We sit today at the loom of life,
And weave, and weave, and weave.
The warp is laid by Hands Divine,
But ever the woof is where we grieve.
For every moment of every day
The shuttle flies through and through.
The patterns we scheme,
In the dreams we dream,
Are made up of the things we do—
Smiles and tears; kind words and fears,
Are wound on the bobbins we wind;
And every thoughtless word is there;
Every deed unkind;
Every act we would vain forget,
The thoughts that are dark and vain.
We view them in the fabric of life,
And see them again and again.
We sit and weave with aching hearts,
In a world of vast regret,
And our tears fall fast, as we view the past,
And we pray that we may forget.
But out of repining and recoil,
We look in the future and see
That the pattern has not been woven in vain,
For our lives are spread on a broader plane.
We know not the length of warp or woof;
We know not our given span;
But into each day's allotted task
Let us put the best we can
Of smiles, of kindness and patient care—
The unselfish efforts we've made—
And blend them in colors surpassing fair,
That the flight of years will not fade.
And thus, at the end of our working day,
When the shuttle falls from our nerveless hands,
And the loom shall lie at rest,
May we hear the voice of the Master say,
"Take the rest, well won, for the work thou hast done.
For 'twas done as thou thought best."
—Joseph H. Marvell, in Philadelphia Public Ledger.

GETTING CAREFUL.

A doubly mysterious piece of news comes from Calcutta by way of London. Its substance is that Dr. Cook, the distinguished American fabulist, has applied in vain through many weary weeks of waiting to the Anglo-Indian authorities for the official permit without which he cannot enter Nepal, and that therefore he is coming home without carrying out any part of his announced purpose to climb the highest of the Himalayas.

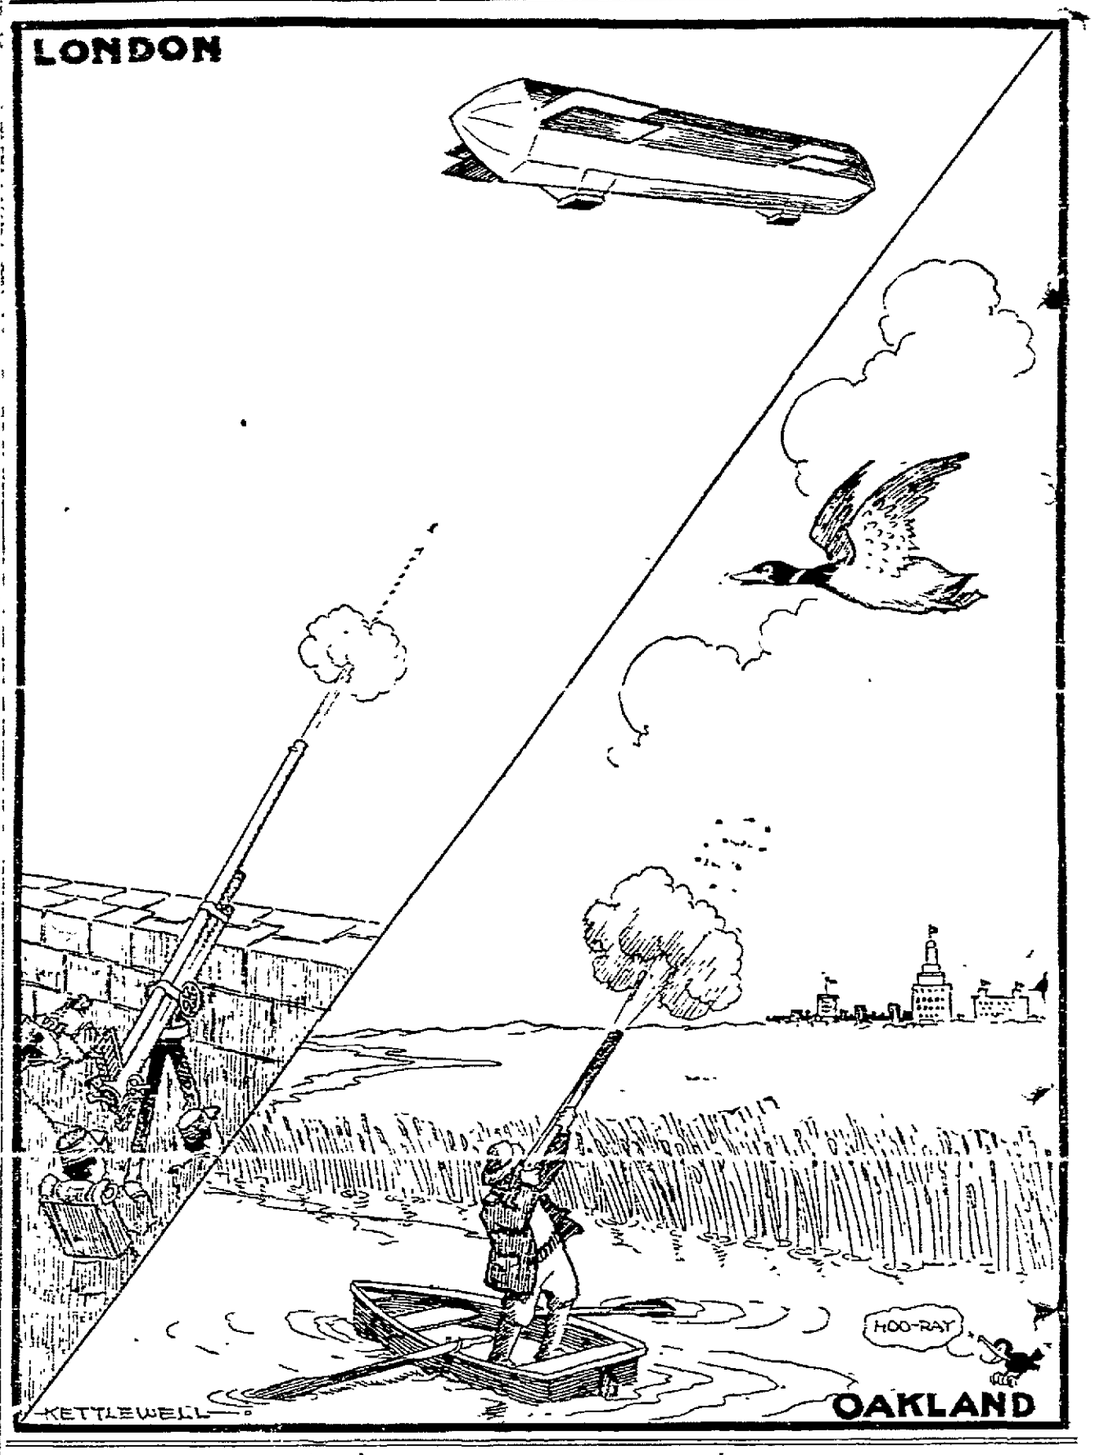
The puzzle is one of the second power, because the request and the refusal are equally destitute of imaginable reason.

If there was a man who wouldn't hurt any mountain—who could be thoroughly trusted not to injure Mount Everest in any way—that man was and is this same Dr. Cook. He has always carefully refrained from stepping on the more fragile and sensitive parts of mountains, and not one of them can accuse him of intruding upon its secret places or suffering its virginal glories. The Britishers are therefore quite unnecessarily suspicious of Dr. Cook—quite unnecessarily careful of their old mountain. They are just absurd.

On the other hand, what did the doctor want of their old permit? He can go within sight of Mount Everest without it, and, with a few note books and pencils and a few easily obtainable photographs of acclivitous scenery anywhere, he would be fully equipped for writing a book on his ascent of Mount Everest—a book worthy of place in any gentleman's library beside the account of his ascent of Mount McKinley and the one in which he describes so well his discovery of the north pole.

It is almost to be feared that age is beginning to tell on Dr. Cook. In other, and younger, days he didn't have to bother about getting permits to go anywhere or to do anything.—New York Times.

THE OPEN SEASON



NOTABLE PERSONS.

Thomas A. Edison, chairman of the United States Naval Advisory Board, was in Chicago for a few hours yesterday on his way to San Francisco from the east. The inventor favored a gigantic plan for a United States war chest.

Julius Kruttschnitt, president of the Pacific Mail Company, replied to recent criticism in which he defended his company for its recent withdrawal from the Oriental waters on the ground that the ships could not be operated profitably under the provisions of the La Follette seamen's bill.

Daniel McClane, a hardy Burlingame Scotchman, who was married at the age of 59 years and has eleven children and a number of grandchildren, celebrated his centennial here today by learning to drive an automobile.

Ambassador Page at Rome cabled Secretary Lansing yesterday that he had never expressed an opinion concerning the Italian campaign or given out any expression whatsoever in regard to the probable results or merits of the European struggle.

Jack Retlau, self-styled hobo cartoonist, who, with Jeff Davis, king of the hoboes, established the "De Gink" hotels in Seattle, New York and other places, is in San Francisco studying the local unemployment problem.

With Madame Katherine Tingley at the head, an $800,000 corporation, under the name of the School of Antiquity Operating Company, filed articles of incorporation with the San Diego county clerk yesterday.

MEDALS FOR LOCAL STUDENTS.

President Manuel Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala recently signalized the ninety-fourth anniversary of that republic's birth by presenting two gold medals to be awarded the most advanced girl and boy in the public schools of San Francisco.

BIBLES FOR BRAZIL.

Great majority of those speaking the Portuguese tongue today are in Brazil, and it is there the American Bible Society will ship the greater part of the Bibles it has recently had printed in that language.

THE JESTER.

The Escape.

"When the late O'Donovan Rossa first came to America," said an Irish-American of New York, "the Fenians were in pretty bad repute among us.

"In the hotel lobby one day a man attacked the Fenians and Home Rulers bitterly, and he wound up by shouting:

"'Show me an Irishman and I'll show you a coward!'

"While the crowd was applauding this sentiment O'Donovan Rossa got up slowly from his rocking chair and walked up to the speaker.

"'What did you say, friend?' he asked.

"The orator started and bit his lip, then he repeated, in low, tremulous tones:

"'I said, show me an Irishman and I'll show you a coward!'

"'I'm an Irishman!' shouted O'Donovan Rossa fiercely.

"'And I'm a coward,' said the other man, and he turned and dashed out of the door, and the Broadway crowd swallowed him up."

Followed Instructions.

She was a little girl, and very polite. It was the first time she had been on a visit alone, and she had been carefully instructed how to behave.

"If they ask you to dine with them," papa had said, "you must say, 'No, thank you; I have already dined.'"

It turned out just as papa had anticipated.

"Come along, Mildred," said her little friend's father. "You must have a bite with us."

"No, thank you," said the little girl, with dignity; "I have already bitten."

Serious.

She: "Are your intentions toward the widow really serious?"

He: "They are! I intend, if possible, to get out of her clutches."

Edith: "Miss Oldgirl says she has just reached the marriageable age."

Marie: "You don't say. I wonder what delayed her."—Boston Transcript.

Conscience.

Bridget: "The new neighbors want to cut their grass, mum, and they sent over to ask the loan of your lawn-mower."

Mistress: "Lend them our lawn-mower to cut grass on the Sabbath! Certainly not! Tell them, Bridget, that we haven't one."—Boston Transcript.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A charming program constituted a musicale given last evening under the auspices of the Chancel Guild, of the Church of the Advent.

The Young Men's Christian Association has been granted permission by the Superior Court to mortgage the property at Twelfth and Clay streets for $25,000. The money will be used to liquidate some indebtedness that still hangs over the building on account of construction.

Last evening the Christian Endeavor Union gave a reception at the First Methodist church to the car men of this city. The musical and dramatic program was well received by the large audience.

Miss Grace Playter gave a delightful bicycle party to a few friends recently. Those who made up the party were Miss Grace Playter, Rev. Alfred Kummer, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Burpee, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Meek, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Hurd, Miss Eleanor Johnston, Miss Virginia Goodsell, Miss Lottie White and John Ames.

The wedding of Jesse Andrews and Miss Emma Smith was solemnized in the Episcopal church at Twentieth street and Telegraph avenue on Wednesday evening last.

ORIGINAL ENGLISH ARMY GONE.

England has now an army of approximately 3½ million men in France. But it is a new army. It is without experience, and it is without experienced regiments to stiffen it and give it confidence, for the army of British regulars which landed in France last August has ceased to exist.

The old regimental names remain, but the officers and men who composed those regiments are today in the hospitals or the cemeteries. The losses suffered by the British army in Flanders are appalling. The West Kent Regiment, for example, has been three times wiped out and three times reconstituted. Of the Black Watch, the Rifle Brigade, the infantry of the Household, scarcely a vestige of the original establishments remain.

Hardly less terrible are the losses which have been suffered by the Canadian contingent. The Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry landed in France 1400 strong. Today only 150 remain. The present colonel of the regiment was a private in the ranks last October.—E. Alexander Powell in Scribner's.

"MEDIUM" MESSAGES IN DIVORCE

THREATS TO KILL ARE CHARGED

"Will Wife Die Soon?" Is the Alleged Question Asked of Spirits.

Mysterious messages from mediums, who were called on by the mining manager to tell him where asbestos mines were, and if his wife would die soon, and charges and counter-charges of cruelty, bad language and threats to kill, are piled thickly one on the other in a sensational divorce suit filed against H. T. Mecum, Oakland mining man and lumber promoter, at Oroville.

The suit, directed against him by his wife, is based on a letter, addressed to an Oakland spiritual medium, which reached the wife by a mistake. In this Mecum enclosed a check for $150 for the information as to whether his wife would die soon. Mecum declares that he was prompted only by husbandly affection. He further states that his wife had threatened to kill him, that he was afraid of her and that the family had had trouble in Oroville, Oakland and Berkeley, where at times they made their home.

Mrs. Mecum alleges that Mecum is now living at the home of a spiritualistic medium, that she only gained support from him by threatening his arrest and that his letter indicated that he wished her death.

AFRAID OF WIFE.

Mecum says Mrs. Mecum threatened his life.

"But you're tall and she's small," said Attorney Oscar Goldstein. "Why are you afraid of her?"

"You never can tell what a woman will do," answered the witness.

The question of a Mrs. Black, a stockholder, who accompanied Mecum to the Trinity Asbestos Mining Company holdings, was brought up.

"Did not Mrs. Chamberlain, a medium, tell you that you and Mrs. Black were perfectly mated and were more suited than you and your wife?" he was asked.

"That is not true," said the witness.

In one domestic scene, says Mecum, his wife picked up a piece of stove wood and threatened to knock his teeth out with it. Mr. Mecum is also a frequenter of the society of fortune tellers.

Victim Drugged and Robbed in Saloon

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16. — Lulling their victim into unconsciousness by drugging his liquor, three clever robbers relieved Edward Levia of 383 Nineteenth street of his valuables at the Grand Union saloon, 530 Kearny street, this morning. Levia is now at the Central Emergency Hospital in a dazed condition while the physicians are puzzled over the exact nature of the drug administered.

The jewel in his tie pin had been taken out by means of nippers his watch was missing and there was no money in his pockets. The detective department was notified and a description of the three men obtained. So far they have not been captured.

Jeweler Murdered; Police Hunt Robber

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Harry Phillips, a jeweler, was found murdered last night on the stairway leading to the fifth floor of the building in which he had quarters. He had been shot.

The rooms of the jeweler and along the hallway to the stairs on which the body was found face downward bore evidence of a struggle. Robbery was the object of the murder, according to the police.

Marriages Less Among Immigrants, Shown

By Associated Press.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 16.—Although the percentage of marriages among foreign-born women is smaller in California than among Americans, the birth rate is greater among the foreign born, according to figures issued by George B. Leslie, statistician for the state board of health. The birth rate among the native daughters is lower even than that of other Americans.

The following table presents comparative figures for the three elements of the white population in California for 1914, and also, by average per cents, for the five year period, 1909 to 1913. Widowed and divorced brides are omitted, in order that the comparison between mothers and brides may be drawn between groups of similar age:

MRS. BLAKE'S DIVORCE SET ASIDE

Alice Westphal Cranwell-Blake, granddaughter of the late J. C. Westphal, millionaire miller, whose marital experiences have crowded many unusual things into her youth, is again a wife, this time automatically. It was all through the action of Superior Judge Shortall in San Francisco yesterday in declaring that the girl is again Mrs. Thomas M. Blake Jr.

After one disastrous search for happiness in matrimony, which ended in divorce, the young society dancer married Tom Blake, of San Francisco. Blake's mother, Mrs. Christine Blake, 1350 Washington street, San Francisco, did not approve, and last July she petitioned Judge Shortall to annul the marriage, averring that her son was not of legal age. The girl did not fight the petition, and it was granted.

Judge Shortall recently learned that the girl is about to become a mother. It was explained to him that she did not realize the serious mistake she was making in failing to contest Mrs. Blake's petition, so the jurist set the annulment aside, declared the girl to be Mrs. Blake again, and said she would have the right to now contest the annulment petition.

Mrs. Blake junior declares Mrs. Blake senior had full knowledge of the approaching marriage and although she was not at the wedding she was represented by her daughter.

Mrs. Blake's first husband was Louis R. Cranwell of Oakland. She was then 17 and Cranwell was 18. The marriage was annulled upon the application of her parents.

Directing the superintendent of streets to notify property owners to construct cement sidewalks in 20 days on Fifty-sixth street and Fifty-eighth street, between Shattuck avenue and Telegraph avenue.

Granting permission to the Seventh street and South Side Improvement Club to hold a street fair and carnival on Market street between Fifth and Seventh streets from October 25 to October 30, 1915.

GOOSE STEW TO MARK COLUSA RAIL SERVICE

The Northern Electric Railway opened a line to Colusa today, giving the people of Colusa county an outlet by rail. The opening date will be celebration by the Citizen's Committee of Colusa in the form of a goose stew.

Invitations to surrounding cities and towns have been sent out, and a big demonstration will be made, welcoming the electric railway.

Commencing on the opening date, there will be direct service to and from the bay cities via the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railway. Three trains daily will be available for this service, to leave San Francisco at 7:20 a. m., 11:20 a. m. and 4:40 p. m., and leaving Oakland at 7:50 a. m., 11:50 a. m. and 5:09 p. m.

The Oakland Commercial Club organized a party to visit Colusa county after the opening of the electric line to that point, and have now set the date for October 28.

AWARD $7500 FOR DEATH.

WOODLAND, Oct. 16.—Damages for the plaintiffs in the sum of $7500 was the verdict of the jury in the case of Jacob and Charlotte Bluhm, who sued the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for $50,000 for the death of their son, who was killed by a freight train while crossing the track in this city on a bicycle.

RURAL CREDIT URGED BY DEAN

Head of U. C. Agriculture Department Addresses Plymouth Center.

Urging rural credits as the only means of saving California's farms for the sons of Californians, and pointing out that the fate of the big cities on the coast depends on the character of its rural population, Dean Thomas Forsyth Hunt, head of the agricultural department of the state university, made a vigorous appeal last night, at Plymouth Center, for the passage of the Rural Credits bill at the coming state election.

"Farms," he said, "must be recapitalized three times a century. Farmers are forced now to pay nine per cent on loans just as secure as those on railroad bonds, which are never paid, except by reissued bonds. America has just loaned the allies five hundred millions, at five per cent—for war. The farmers should have the same rate as the allies—their security is as good!

"The country produces more children than the city by a wide margin—yet there are few young people in the country. They come to the cities. If the farms pass from the hands of our children to foreigners, we in the city get their children in the next generation!"

HUNT PRINCIPAL SPEAKER.

Dean Hunt was the principal speaker at a meeting held at Plymouth Center, last night, to discuss the amendments to be voted on October 26. Arthur Arlett was introduced by Clarence Ebey, vice-president of the Men's League, as chairman. Speaker C. C. Young of the assembly briefly outlined the laws on appointment of judges and their terms. Walter O'Brien stated that he favored rural credits, but not by state loans. W. R. Williams spoke on the state banking system, telling his experience as bank superintendent. Arlett urged the church tax exemption clause, and introduced Chester Rowell of Fresno as the speaker on the non-partisan bill, stating that, as no opponent had been found to speak against the bill, Rowell would handle both sides.

LEGISLATIVE RESULTS.

"Even if the referendum kills the bills before the people," he said, "the registration law is already non-partisan—and one cannot register by party anyhow."

"But if the people showed it to be their will by the election would not the legislature repeal conflicting statutes?" asked Louis Gear.

"That might be—or might not," said Rowell. The speaker also declared that if the party politicians won the election they would go back to convention politics.

"They say it will kill responsibility and government," he declared. "There's no such animal in this country!"

Naval Surgeons' Head Urges Appropriation

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—The necessity for increased appropriations for his department in order that it keep pace with the other development in the naval force of the country, was urged by Rear Admiral William C. Braisted, surgeon-general of the navy, in an address to the Medical Club of Philadelphia last night.

Among the needs of his department, Admiral Braisted enumerated a reserve corps of 700 surgeons in accordance to 400 acuve surgeons, 500 male trained nurses, an increase of from 140 to 800 women nurses and more hospital ships. A two-year reserve supply of medicines and other supplies should also be provided for, he declared, in order that the hospital corps of the navy be in a position to adequately care for the wounded in case the navy should become engaged in war service on an extensive scale.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

CROCKETT, Oct. 16.—John Hickey, a longshoreman who had resided here for thirteen years, was instantly killed by an eastbound Southern Pacific overland train. He was walking on the track with J. Carey. The noise of a freight train which was switching near by drowned the noise of the advancing train. Carey jumped and was only slightly injured, but Hickey, who was on the side next the freight train, was too late.

BABY HOSPITAL BAZAAR A SUCCESS

SOCIETY THRONGS CHARITY FETE

CORNER OF BABY BOOTH AT CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL DOLL SHOW.

Thousands of visitors thronged the Auditorium today when the Baby Hospital bazaar proved the merriest carnival of the year. This evening the ball will be a fitting close with the lines of boxes filled with stunningly gowned women and the floor crowded with dancers.

This afternoon the booths were the principal attractions, and the spelling of Ben Reed and Ralph Phelps persuaded many dollars from the pockets of the crowd. It has been one of the most successful charity fetes given in California and Mrs. Frank Mott, Mrs. Samuel Mark, Mrs. Duncan McDuffie and their assistants are winning many congratulations.

The society women who presided over the various booths were assisted by a number of the attractive matrons and belles of the smart set, who wore their prettiest gowns and were bright, efficient "saleswomen."

Mrs. Percy Walker, who had charge of a picture post card booth, was assisted by Mrs. George Wilhelm, Miss Phyllis Lovell, Miss Lilla Lovell, Mrs. Mark Anthony, Mrs. Dean Allen, Mrs. Peter B. Kyne, Mrs. Robert Newell, Mrs. Fritz Henshaw and Miss Ledlie Smith.

Mrs. Joseph Knowland, who had charge of the Celebrities' Dolls' Booth, was assisted by Mrs. Charles S. Neal and several others.

Assisting Mrs. Bernard Ransome at the fruits and nuts booth, were Mrs. Tom Olney, Mrs. Fred Magee, Mrs. William de Fremery, Miss Florence Selby and Mrs. Ethel Phelps Glassford.

At the refreshments booth were Mrs. William Cavalier, Miss Mildred Snook and Mrs. Edwin T. Blake.

With Mrs. William Knowles at the amusement booth was Mrs. Roy Butler.

For the ball this evening the refreshments, which are in charge of Mrs. Edward Engs and her assistants, will be original and especially appealing. Instead of supper at midnight, the ices, salads, "hot dogs" from the Zone, roast beef sandwiches, hot scones, coffee and other beverages, will be disposed of during the evening at most reasonable rates. The vendors will be picturesque and will add to the carnival spirit of the ball.

The music will be furnished by Dexter Wright's band of 35 pieces and will play the latest dance numbers. There will be no grand march and dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock. Fifty prominent men of Oakland form the floor committee that will direct the dancing and see that the great crowd is well dispersed over the floor.

Most of society will be present and scores of dinners have been planned. Mrs. Edward Engs will be hostess at the largest, entertaining 30 guests at her Piedmont home. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hogan Jr. will give a dinner at their home in Lerida avenue, entertaining Mr. and Mrs. James McCandless, Lieutenant and Mrs. Fred Seydel, Dr. and Mrs. Philip Bliss. Later the party will attend the ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mott, Mr. and Mrs. William Ede, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McDuffie, Mr. and Mrs. Granville Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watson Cushing, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Sharon and many other well-known society leaders will be among those entertaining box parties.

STAGE SET TO END ARIZONA STRIKE

Peace Conference Starts in City 200 Miles From Scene of Trouble.

By Associated Press.

EL PASO, Oct. 16.—The Arizona strike peace conference adjourned after a brief preliminary session to reconvene Monday. It was agreed that next week the demands of the strikers shall be taken up separately.

Adjutant General Harris, who has asked to be permitted to remain in the room as representative of Governor Hunt of Arizona, withdrew when the mine managers objected. Attorneys for the min managers also were barred.

The scale was kept secret before the conference started. It was understood, however, that it provided a minimum wage of $3 for workers in and about the copper mines. From this minimum the scale graded upward to skilled mechanics, for whom a flat wage was fixed somewhere around $4.50 a day. Under the wage system effective when the mines were closed last month unskilled common labor received about $2.75 a day and underground miners were paid about $2.55, according to the mine owners.

In their list of grievances the miners complained of an alleged practice by the employers of paying the underground miners for only about 7½ hours' work—that is not paying them for the time consumed in going from the mouth of the mine to their places of labor and return.

The strikers allege that the companies have been in the habit of taking hospital fees out of the miners' wages and then requiring a man sent to the hospital to pay $1 a day.

The miners' representatives said they would refuse to discuss in the conference the affidavits made public last night by the mine owners, in which charges of violence of intimidation were made. They took the position that these alleged incidents, if they really occurred, were accidental outgrowths of the labor situation and that the conference should deal solely with the fundamental cause of the strike.

By Associated Press.

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 16.—The stage was set today for a peace conference which may end the Arizona copper strike.

The envoys of the miners expected to communicate with the mine managers and make arrangements to begin sessions at once. The meetings probably will be held behind closed doors, with a stenographer keeping a record of all the proceedings.

The conference will be in several respects different from the usual run of labor mediation. It will be held some two hundred miles from the scene of the strike in a city to which the mine managers fled, for fear, they claim, of violence. The strikers are represented by a committee selected by the mine owners from a list of names submitted by the miners.

Only one of the members of the committee is a miner; the others work at other trades connected with the mines and smelters. Both sides reserve the right to decline to make any agreement to end the strike; in the event of a compromise, the labor party to the conference probably will refer the tentative agreement to the strikers for ratification. During the peace negotiations the strikers themselves are guarding the property of the copper companies, left unprotected by its owners.

The wage question promised to be the important factor in the negotiations. The strikers ask a substantial increase. The mine owners declare that to raise wages to the extent demanded by the miners would force two of the three companies involved to shut down, while the third could operate only on high-grade ore.

The conference probably will end early next week.

Street Car Company to Run Own Jitneys

By Associated Press.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Oct. 16.—Bakersfield street car lines have entered into competition with the five-cent automobile buses. The Bakersfield and Kern Electric Company today established two automobile buses at the East Bakersfield end of their line and will carry passengers to and from distant parts of the city not tapped by the car lines. Transfers will be issued from the automobile buses to the street cars. Within a week the car company expects to have automobiles running on regular schedules and reaching all thickly-settled parts of the city. The five-cent buses have decreased the car company revenues here nearly 50 per cent, according to General Manager A. G. Wishon, and the car service has been curtailed by the company to meet the decreased revenues. The company expects this new competition to largely restore its lost revenues.

SWIMMING MEET ATTRACTS CROWD

Ernie Smith Beats Out Norman by Single Stroke; Many Close Results.

A large crowd turned out at the Piedmont baths last night to see one of the most successful swimming meets held in this city. The best race of the evening proved to be the 100-yard dash, in which Ernie Smith beat out Norman Ross by just one stroke. In the fifty-yard dash Ross had things all to himself, as none of the other entrants were able to come close to him at any time.

In the 150-yard back stroke race, Gunnar Sundman, with a handicap of 10 seconds, nosed out Ralph Kendrick, who started from scratch. The Olympic club won an interesting water polo match by the score of 5 to 3.

The results were:

Fifty-yard dash — Norman Ross, O. C.; Walter Spencer, P. A. C.; George Bond, O. C. Time, 27:1 seconds.

One hundred-yard dash — Ernie Smith; Norman Ross, O. C.; Walter Spencer, P. A. C. Time, 1:02.

One hundred and fifty-yard handicap back stroke—Gunnar Sundman, 10 seconds, net time 2:04; Ralph Kendrick, scratch, net time 2:03; Lincoln Johnson, 12 seconds, net time, 2:09.

TWO DIE SUDDENLY FROM HEART TROUBLE

CORNING, Oct. 16.—Heart trouble was the cause of two sudden deaths in this city. Mrs. H. W. Bradley died while eating a meal, and Mr. Stafford, who came from the East about a week ago, also passed away suddenly.

Mrs. Bradley was about 60 years old and leaves a husband and a son in the Presbyterian church, and three children, Mrs. Birdie Knight of Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Wilbur Sayles of Oakland, and Frank Bradley of Chico. She was prominent in social and church circles.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—Two Los Angeles girls, declared by federal authorities to have been passengers on the mysterious steamer Mazatlan, suspected of having been used to coal a German fleet, are being sought as the result of strange revelations regarding the cruise of the Mazatlan.

The girls are declared to have figured in a "war elopement," and are now known as the missing "war brides."

With Captain Fred Jebsen on the Mazatlan when she sailed from San Francisco some months ago and later touched at Los Angeles harbor was Lieutenant M. Hurlitz, a reservist in the German navy, according to federal officers.

KNOWN AS BRIDES.

The girls are declared, as a result of the investigations, to have posed as the wives of the German lieutenant and a certain other man aboard the ship.

Collector of the Port J. O. Davis of San Francisco still holds a $20,000 bond put up by Jebsen as a guarantee that he would not coal German cruisers.

Now the federal officers hope to prove by the two Los Angeles girls that the Mazatlan actually did coal the German cruiser Leipzig in the South Seas.

The girls left the Mazatlan in Mexican waters, the government alleges, and later returned to Los Angeles.

SAID TO BE KNOWN.

Hurlitz left the Mazatlan and presumably perished when the Leipzig was destroyed.

The search for the two girls and a solution of the mystery was renewed when a former officer of the Mazatlan returned to San Francisco, with photographs showing the two Los Angeles girls with Jebsen and Hurlitz on the cruiser Leipzig.

A photograph also shows Jebsen being taken from the Mazatlan in a small boat and boarding the Leipzig.

Singer's Son Faces Embezzlement Charge

By Associated Press.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 16.—At a meeting of the fire and police commission here last night Chief of Police Binson was directed to make a complaint of embezzlement against Henry Schumann-Heink, the prima donna's son.

Schumann-Heink, a clerk in the recorder's court, was suspended a month ago when discrepancies were found in his accounts. Experts claimed they found a shortage of about $3800.

Young Schumann-Heink was born at Dresden in 1886 and is the fifth of the prima donna's eight children.

MERCHANTS WILL HOLD GET TOGETHER BANQUET

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 16.—"Notwithstanding threats to burst up our organization, we are still going strong," said Secretary Fred J. Hirschman of the Merchants' Association, in announcing its next get-together banquet for the coming Wednesday evening. "Following a controversy over the city licensing and other questions, in which members of the association took a stand, one or two of the members gave notice of their withdrawal and warned several of the officers that the remainder of the members would resign in sympathy. How far their threats have come true is shown by the fact that of our original seventy-two members there are still fifty-three in the association," continued Hirschman. "By far the largest number of the merchants are supporting the association and its work."

Several prominent speakers will be asked to address Wednesday's gathering. The dates of the banquets have been changed from Monday evenings to Wednesday evenings.

A number of the war shares were lost by 1 to 2 points and such rails as Louisville and Nashville, New Haven Erie second preferred and Rock Island showed similar declines. The rally in the final dealings was led by Baldwin Locomotive and Bethlehem Steel, the latter rising 7 points from yesterday's close at the new record price of 434. The closing was steady. Bonds were firm.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16—Raw sugar, steady; molasses, 3.45c; centrifugal, 4.20c; refined steady.

COMSTOCK SHARES AGAIN IN DEMAND

Mining Exchange Handles Big Buying Orders of Considerable Volume.

North End Comstocks were again the feature of the mining shares market on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today. Buying orders of considerable volume had been received overnight and there was a rush to fill them on opening. Prices carried upward rapidly and some new high quotations were established. News from Union and Sierra Nevada continued to indicate the possible discovery of important ore bodies with good values, and traders generally believed that the district is on the eve of a revival.

Union went from 68c to 75c on opening sale, dropping back to 70c on moderate profit taking. Trading during the first hour was about 2500 shares, indicating that the stock is tightly held. The offerings of Sierra Nevada on the upward trend amounted to 10,000 shares in the same period. The stock went from 4½c to 5½c on opening, touched 6½c later and then slid down to sales at 5½c and 5¾c. Con Virginia sold up to 24c and back to 22c, the opening figure. Ophir made a rapid gain, selling from 42c to 49c before the reaction, which carried it back to 46c on trading that totaled 3500 shares.

The Goldfields were neglected, with Jumbo Extension and Goldfield Consolidated both holding at $1.37½. Merger Mines were steady at 19c.

There was a little activity in Jim Butler, which sold from bids of 15c up to 17c and West End, which was two points higher, with sales at 38c.

United Western dropped a point to 39c and Rochester Mines continued in demand after a sale at 51c.

Foreclosure Sale

22 acres of land located about 22 miles from Oakland, about ¼ mile from the Oakland-Antioch electric line, 45 minutes to Oakland and about ½ mile from the S. P. R. R.; 1½ miles to town. Land is on main county road and near highway; is fenced; has some very fine large trees on it, also some young fruit trees and a fine spring of water. Land is very rolling, but can all be farmed and has been farmed for years; is good, deep soil. About 8 acres of it is garden soil, balance suitable for fruit or grain. Land sold 2 years ago for $4500. Is being foreclosed on and must be sold at once and I can guarantee delivery at $2200. About one-half cash and balance can stand.

150 acres first class river bottom sediment soil, free from hardpan and very deep; suitable for alfalfa, pears or any kind of vegetables; especially adapted to asparagus and beans. Joins main county road on one side, Tuolumne river on the other; only 7 miles from Modesto; close to school. In a rich and highly improved district; only 20 acres under ditch, as the balance does not require irrigation. Fair house, barn, windmill, etc. Place all fenced, and about 50 or 60 acres cleared. For immediate sale can deliver this at a price of $85 per acre; only $3500 cash required, balance to suit. Positively the best bargain in this district.

TAFT WILL CALL NEW VOTE FOR SCHOOL BONDS

TAFT, Oct. 16.—That there may be no more delays in the building of Taft's new $60,000 high school, the trustees have definitely decided to revote the bond issue. Notices have been posted calling the election for November 6, to be held at the Taft primary school building. The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The new election notices, though made out on short forms, contain the clause written in ink "interest payable annually, both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States." It was because the blanks did not contain this clause that the bond buyers decided they were invalid, and refused to take them after being the highest bidders and being awarded the bonds by the Board of Supervisors.

The new bond issue will be apportioned similar to the old, the last ten bonds to be paid in fourteen years and the first ten in ten years, with ten to be paid off each year between.

The trustees have appointed H. E. Tupper to act as inspector and F. E. Jordan and C. B. Briscoe to act as judges of the election.
